Business Men's League Secretary Says Orchestration Would Be Best Present.

Edward Devoys, president of the Merchants' Exchange; President Smith of the Business Men's League; Charles Huttig, David R. Francis and other well-known St. Louisans expressed themselves to a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday in favor of a movement to raise a fund of at least $3500 for the purchase of a gift for the United States cruiser, St. Louis, now with the battleship fleet at Los Angeles, Cal.

Secretary Saunders of the Business
Men's League suggests an orchestration
for a gift, as he says the cruiser has no band.

Don't Want a Silver Set.
"The suggestion has been made," said
Mr. Saunders, "that we choose a silver service, but we are told it would never be seen by the crew and the officers say they could not use it more than a few times a year."

"When Mr. Francis and other St.
Louisans visited the St. Louis about a year ago Commander Usher, who is a former Missourian, said he regretted that the people of St. Louis had not remembered the great vessel bearing his name."

"The Business Men's League is anxious to see this matter started and we are glad the Post-Dispatch is giving it attention."

Devoys Favors Plan.
Mr. Devoys said:
"The Merchants' Exchange is heartily in favor of the proposition. I am sure we can get $3500 together in a few days."

"We ought to have the gift ready before the fleet sails for the Philippines."

"I know the members of the Merchants' Exchange will be glad to push the project along."

Charles H. Huttig said:
"Mrs. Huttig and myself were present at the christening of the St. Louis at Philadelphia three years ago."

"There was some discussion of the plan of a gift at that time, but nothing was done. Now that the St. Louis has participated in the great voyage from the Atlantic to the Pacific, I think we ought to renew our efforts to make a substantial presentation."

Commendable, Says Francis.
David R. Francis said:
"The idea is a most commendable one.
The fact that St. Louis has not remembered the cruiser named after her is due to public negligence."

"I believe the matter ought to be agitated strongly without further delay."

Mayor Didn't Even Answer
Their Request for Permit to Hold Parade.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 21.—If this city wants to run after Prince Helle de Sagan and pay no attention to a special train load of business and professional men from one of the liveliest cities in the Southwest, the 112 Tulsa boomers are not going to let it hurt their feelings.
It just enables them to size up New York, that's all.

Their impression
is that, except for mere bigness, New York is pretty small potatoes—
too small for the Oklahoma market.

If it hadn't been
for Gov. Hughes, who happened to be here from Albany, the Tulsa delegation would have gone un-welcomed. It learned that Mayor McClellan
had paid no attention to them,
and when they called on him, he gave them the freedom of the city.

From the sweeping tone of his remarks,
some of them concluded that he would not mind if they even went to Aqueduct track and saw the ponies run. So those who like a drink sort of thing went.

Mayor Ignored Them.
The "Oklahoma Outfit" left the city today, after abandoning its plan for a parade down Broadway to the Stock Exchange and other haunts of the "System."

The parade was to have been made with a brass band,
which has been heard with approval by street
crowds in St.
Louis, Cincinnati,
Washington and Baltimore.

Just as a matter of form, they sent a request to Mayor McClellan
for a permit to hold the parade.
They did not even get an answer.

That was enough,
and they decided not to give any New York policeman a chance to weave future romances about his victorious encounter with a band of cowboys on Broadway.

The Mayor, Councilmen, bankers, lawyers, merchants and ministers are all and all believe that in advertising Tulsa, even though they have been side-tracked her for the Murphy-McCarren row and other local happenings which concern the City Hall.

LEAVES ROOM IN A RAGE

Attorney Prosecuting Damage Suit Blandly Says He Does Not Need Magnate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

There was fire in the eye of John I.
Beggs Tuesday morning when, after a day and a half of fidgety and unwilling attendance in Judge Kinsey's court, he was blandly informed by the attorney prosecuting his company that his testimony would not be needed at all.

The suit is one for $25,000 which William Blankston demands for injuries received August 30, when he was thrown from an Olive street car at Twenty-first street and fell under the wheels, suffering the loss of a leg.

Three additional subpoenas were served on Mr. Beggs by Lawrence Kierman, a process server, as the traction magnate
was leaving Judge Kinsey's courtroom.
This time Mr. Beggs is desired as a witness in the cases of Edna Lee Monroe,
Mrs. Lizzie Jerome and Ulysses Monroe, who have filed damage suits against the United Railways Co.

Was Swearing When Attacked.
Because of the plaintiff's own testimony that he was swearing on the front platform when the crew attacked him, Judge Kinsey ruled he had no claim to punitive damages.

It was in this connection that Attorney George Safford for the plaintiff wanted Col. Beggs to testify. Upon hearing the court's ruling, Safford, not wishing to conceal a grin, announced:

"In that case, I don't think we will need Col. Beggs any longer, and he is at liberty to depart."

John I. Beggs was a common witness, summoned on a common subpoena just like anybody else.

About two hours of the first five of his first day of waiting until Attorney George Safford made ready to hear his testimony, was consumed by the Milwaukee president of St. Louis in frequent references to a memorandum book, containing columns and columns of figures. Occasionally he would make a notation with a pencil.

U. R. C. Looking $187 a Day.
Court attaches, after watching him for a considerable time, finally got to work with pencil and paper. They figured the United Railways lost about $137 worth of President John I. Beggs' time while he was in the courtroom the first day.

Safford insisted on Beggs remaining in the courtroom until he should get ready to ask him if the United Railways has enough money in the strong box to pay a $25,000 judgment, in case one is rendered.

Safford, when asked when he would put Beggs on the stand, said:
"Whenever I get good and ready. If the United Railways can't admit a few facts about its financial condition which everybody knows, then Mr. Beggs can sit here until I get ready for him."

When Judge Kinsey suggested to Safford
that he place Beggs on the stand Safford objected, insisting upon his right to introduce his witnesses in the order
he saw fit.

Lawyer and Judge in Tilt.
"It is the province of the attorney,"
said Safford, "to put in his testimony
in his own way."

"Not always," retorted Judge Kinsey.
"The court has something to say about that. If you are simply refusing to put him on the stand for the purpose of holding him here, harassing him and causing him inconvenience, I shall not permit it."

Safford denied any such purpose, explaining the evidence he hoped to get from Beggs, and explaining he had not reached the point in his case where such testimony was proper.

State Closes Its Case.
The State rested at 10:15, asking leave
to submit the whisky bottle found on the Centropolis road by Wilson, the copy
book in which the alleged suicide note was written, and which the State had shown was written after the murders occurred, and the small case knife found under Jane Schneck's body.

John Wilson, a mail carrier between Ottawa and Centropolis, testified late Monday that on the day the bodies of Mrs. Schneck and the children were found he saw the tracks of a single rig
in the snow as he was driving from Centropolis. A little further on his horses alighted at a spot in the snow.

Bloodstains in Snow.
For a space of three feet, he said, it looked as though blood-stained hands had been washed there. He also saw tracks of overcoats near by, and a quart whisky bottle.

On cross-examination, the defense
brought out that rabbit hunting is common in that section in winter, and that hunters sometimes draw their game as soon as it is killed and wash it in the snow.

derer Wrote.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OTTAWA, Kan., April 21.—The trial of Frank Schneck, charged with the murder of his wife and two children, resumed in the Circuit Court this morning.

Frank Hodges today testified to having met on the Centropolis road about 3
a. m. the day of the murder a rig occupied by persons, one of whom he believed was Frank Schneck.

Mrs. W. F. Englebright lived about half a block west of the Schneck home.
At midnight, Feb. 3, she saw a light in the west bedroom window of the Schneck home. She saw a man at the window, bending forward. "I felt certain it was Frank Schneck," said the witness.

State Closes Its Case.
The State rested at 10:15, asking leave

On cross-examination, the defense
brought out that rabbit hunting is common in that section in winter, and that
hunters sometimes draw their game as

The State introduced copies of letters said to have been written by Schneck
to his co-defendant, Mrs. Mollie Stewart.
Mrs. Stewart was questioned regarding these letters, and on advice of counsel, stood on her rights and refused to answer questions which might incriminate her.

Refers to Overcoats.
In one of his letters to Mrs. Stewart Schneck tells of a visit of his relatives to his cell. He closes by saying: "They took a look at my overcoats, but didn't say anything. If they do I will say I bought a pair at the Racket."

"You was alone, and I got a pair of shoes for Pearl or Eddie, I don't know which; and, say, the overcoats I bought had red lining. These has got gray."

Ed Stewart testified a few days ago that he saw Schneck's overcoats with stains on them, after the tragedy at the Stewart home.

SUCH AN EARLY SUMMER!
HERE'S A NEW STRAW HAT
ON PARK VON WEDELSTADT

It's Large Only by Comparison
With Season's Extreme "Merry Widower" Style.

Straw hats are ripe.
R. Park von Wedelstaedt, clubman and Beau Brummel, is out with the first one of the season.

It is as near the merry widower style
as any St. Louisan may hope to get this season unless he has one made to order or borrows Mamie's.

The creation worn by Mr. von Wedel-staedt has a brim 2 1/2 inches wide. Twice 2 1/2 inches, plus the lateral thickness of the wearer's head, shows the width of the hat, which is much smaller than those which the girls are wearing.

Fashion has decreed small hats for men this year. Mr. von Wedelstaedt's seems large only by comparison with some of the others shown in hatters' windows.

"Yes, I'm wearing the first 'kitty'
of the season, but what of it?" said Mr.
von Wedelstaedt. "I think a man is foolish to go around with a heavy top piece on when the weather is warm. Why wait until the first of May? The hats are on sale and the sun is hot these bright afternoons."

"Why be foolishly conservative and suffer, when you can be radical and feel good?"

"I wouldn't call my hat a merry widower. It is the largest of the small sizes on sale this year. There are lots more just like it in the stores, and mine won't look queer when everybody else gets in line."

"I prefer a reasonably wide brim because it keeps the sun out of my eyes.
The new hat feels so good that I won't put it off for anything short of a frost."

BRYAN'S LITTLE GRANDSON.
MISSING FROM LINER. GIVES EVERYBODY A BAD SCARE

Crowd at Pier Applauds When Mother Finally Finds Him Hiding Under a Berth.

NEW YORK, April 21.—William J.
Bryan's grandson, little Bryan Leavitt,
gave the Democratic leader a bad scare today. Mr. Bryan had gone to the pier to meet the steamer Minneapolis, upon which Mrs. Bryan, her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Leavitt, and Mrs. Leavitt's two children were returning from Europe.

When the steamer swung in at the pier Mr. Bryan was one of the first on board. He found Mrs. Bryan and Mrs.
Leavitt awaiting him on the upper deck. His granddaughter, Ruth, also was there, but little Bryan was nowhere to be seen. A search, which extended over the ship, from one end to the other, was not successful.

Finally his mother found him where he had hidden under a berth in his mother's stateroom. When he was drawn out of his hiding place little Bryan threw himself into his grandfather's arms, and the big crowd which had gathered on the deck watched the meeting with enthusiastic appreciation.

DR. KOCH COMES TO ST. LOUIS FOR REST AND QUIET

Noted German Scientist, En-Route Around World, Is Visiting Kinsman.

Dr. Robert Koch, famous German scientist and champion banquet dodger of the world, arrived in St. Louis from Iowa Tuesday, accompanied by his wife.

The distinguished traveler takes no chances with the many elaborate dishes
for which American chefs are famous.
Just plain food will do for him.

Dr. Koch is one of the most noted of living scientists. He discovered the tuberculosis and cholera germs, devised effective methods for the treatment of those diseases and under a special commission from the German Government recently investigated the "sleeping sickness" in Africa.

Many Banquets Given Up.
On their arrival in St. Louis he and his wife drove at once to the Jefferson Hotel, where they will stop while here.

Dr. E. C. Goodwin announced Tuesday that all plans for banquets in Dr.
Koch's honor have been abandoned. The Medical Society, the Anti-Tuberculosis League and several minor organizations
had intended to give him a taste of St.
Louis hospitality, but he notified them
he would run away if they tried to get him as a banquet guest.

Many private dinners and luncheons
also were planned. These, too, will be abandoned.

Refuses an Interview.
As Dr. Koch was leaving the breakfast table at the Hotel Jefferson by a side door, and was making a hurried dash for the elevator, he was intercepted by a Post-Dispatch reporter with a question.

"An interview," the scientist exclaimed. "Oh, my, no. I'm busy. I can't say anything for publication."

He entered an elevator quickly and disappeared. A brother, who refused to give his first name, said Dr. Koch had been "driven to distraction" by public attention since reaching the United States.

The brother said that, if there was any demonstration in Dr. Koch's honor, or any effort to disturb the rest he is seeking here, he will at once pack his grip and leave St. Louis. If he is let alone, the brother says, he may stay a day.

They are on a tour of the world. From St. Louis they will go to San Francisco where they will embark for a voyage across the Pacific.

Before returning to their home in Germany they will visit many cities in Japan, China and India.

Prosecutor Calls "Danny" Naughton to Confront

tentation That Money Was Paid

Isaac Conran, Speaker of the House of Delegates, testifying at the bribery trial of Delegate Ferd Warner, Tuesday, acknowledged on the witness stand that while a member of the House of Delegates he has obtained and executed contracts for plumbing in public fountains erected by private persons under ordinances passed by the Municipal Assembly.

"Haven't you fathered the passage of public drinking fountain bills so that you could get plumbing contracts for these fountains?" asked Circuit Attorney Sager.

An objection to this question was sustained by Judge Muench.

"How long have you been a member of the House?" asked Sager.

"Five years."

"How long have you been Speaker?"

"One year."

"Isn't it a fact that within that period you have obtained contracts to put in these public fountains?"

"Yes."

"And were you a member of the House of Delegates when you took those contracts?"

"Yes," said Conran.

Asked what basis he had for asking Conran about his connection with these contracts, Mr. Sager said:

"I am not in a position to go into that at this time."

According to Mr. Sager, there are two kinds of public fountains. Some are built by the city and others by private individuals. Both kinds must be authorized by city ordinance before they can be built.

"I had heard that Conran was interested in plumbing work on fountains."

Frederick W. Priesmeyer, who will be tried after Warner for alleged complicity in the bribery for which both were indicted, stepped forward to the witness stand shortly after the noon hour. In his replies the vigorous emphasis remarked in his answers at the first trial of Warner had disappeared. He seemed dispirited.

"Did you receive $500, or any other sum of money from Henry Ascher on the night of Oct. 19, or any other night,
in consideration for your assistance in passing his garage ordinance?" he was asked by counsel for the defense.

"Positively no," replied the delegate, without energy.

"Did you pass any sum of money to Daniel Naughton on that night?"

"No."

Doesn't Remember.
He stated that he had never seen
Ascher until the night of Oct. 19.

"Isn't it a fact that Delegate Sam Stannard had often asked you to report the bill out, and that Ascher had importuned you two months to do so?"

"I don't remember Mr. Stannard asking me to get the bill passed, but Ascher did on frequent occasions."

"Well, Cap' Troil wanted me to, and

COMBINE LACKS MAJORITY WITH WARNER ABSENT

His Engagement With Judge and Jury Complicates the House Reorganization.

A DEADLOCK POSSIBLE

Any of Minority, by Changing
His Alignment, Can Prevent Such Delay.

There was I, a waiting at the court,
Waiting at the court, waiting at the court.
And when I learned the trial would not adjourn,
My heart did upset me,
Now that a awful noise,
But I can't get away to vote with them today—
The judge won't let me.

Delegate Ford Warner's unavoidable absence may prevent the combine from reorganizing the House of Delegates at the opening of its annual session Tuesday afternoon.

According to well-grounded reports,
the combine has only 15 votes, including Warner. That delegate happens to be engaged Tuesday occupying the defendant's chair in Judge Muench's court.
He is being tried on a charge of bribery.

Should the minority of 13 stick together, the combine will be unable to move without Warner. It requires 15 votes to elect house officers.

If Warner should be able to get a recess from Judge Muench long enough to attend the organizing session—which is not at all probable—the House combine will re-elect Isaac Conran, Speaker; Tom Leonard, clerk; Daniel A. Corbett, page, and W. P. ("Sport") Brady, sergeant-at-arms.

It will do the same thing if any one of the minority members agrees to desert
and vote with the majority.

Election May Wait.
If neither of these things happens,
there will be no election of officers of the House until Warner is acquitted.
It is not considered likely that he would insist on retaining his place in the House combine were he convicted.

"Danny" Naughton may also be absent from the house reorganization meeting Tuesday afternoon. He is a witness in the Warner bribery trial. Incidentally, he has been convicted of being an accessory after the fact to the bribery alleged against Warner and Delegate Priemeyer, combine member from the First Ward.

Corrigan, or Kerrigan.
Whether Naughton is excused as a witness from the Warner trial in time for the house reorganization or not, it is said that he will not be put up for re-election as Assistant Clerk of the House. A fellow-worker from the Sixteenth has been "slated" for his place. His name is said to be either said to be a clerk, to have never taken part in politics before and to bear the first name Tom.

Who he is politically none of the politicians about the City Hall seems to know.

If the combine's Conran-Leonard-Kerrigan slate is put through, it is believed that James T. Brennan of the Twenty-sixth Ward will be re-elected Speaker pro tem., an office that carries with it the chairmanship of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Warner to the Rear.
The plans of the combine further contemplate, according to City Hall gossip, the retirement from the other important committee chairmanships of the delegates who were conspicuous during the last session. Delegate Turre is said to be slated to succeed Warner at the head of the Committee on Public Improvements.

A meeting of minority members was called for Tuesday afternoon, before the hour set for the reorganization of the House.

Never Gave Him Bribe.
"Did you give any bribe of money to him?"
"No, sir."

"That is all," said Sager, and Naugh-
ton hurriedly left the courtroom.

The purpose of the State in bringing Naughton into court was to offset, in advance, a possible contention by the defense that the evidence is insufficient to show to whom Ascher gave the money. It has been proved to have been in Naughton's hands the morning of Oct.
19.

But for the confronting of Naughton
by Ascher the defense might have said:
"There is a gap which the State has failed to bridge. Even though it appears that Ascher gave a bribe and that Naughton disposed of bribe money, there is no proof that it was not Naughton instead of Warner or Priemeyer, to whom the money was paid by Ascher."

The appearance of Naughton at this time also opens up the way for the defense to introduce him to tell from whom he obtained the money which he took to Sam Weisman for safe keeping the day following the bribery.

Ascher was the first witness Tuesday.
His testimony was the same as at the first trial. He told of his visits to Warner in the interest of his garage bill, and of the plan to entrap Warner and Priem-eyer by paying them money to insure the passage of the bill, and of the payment of $500 to Priemeyer after Warner
had pointed Priemeyer out to Ascher.
After Weisman had testified as to how Naughton took the money to him and how he sent it to the City National bank, Thomas Lovelace, secretary of the Jefferson Club, testified that, and as it was the alleged bribery he, being then a newspaper reporter, saw Ascher and Warner talking to each other in the corridor of the City Hall, near the House of Delegates chamber.

Connert Not Called.
The State then rested. William C.
Connert, secretary to Mayor Wells, was not called as a witness for the prosecution.
He was in the courtroom and Ascher identified him as the man from whom he received the five $100 bills,
which, he said, he paid to Priemeyer,
whom Warner pointed out to him as a safe man to take the bribe.

Michael V. Leahy, Chief Deputy Building Commissioner, was a character
witness for Warner when the defense opened its case. His appearance caused surprise in the courtroom, as Building Commissioner Smith, his chief, is an appointee of Mayor Wells, and as it is known that Mayor Wells' private secretary, William C. Connert, aided the prosecution of Warner.

Leahy said he had known Warner 14 years, and formerly lived in the same neighborhood, and that Warner's reputation was good. Leahy lives now at 3404 Florissant avenue.

Judge Explains to Jury.
As Leahy was about to leave the stand, Mr. Sager asked if he had ever heard Warner was a poolster at race tracks. Some of the jurors smiled broadly as Leahy replied in the negative. Judge Muench noted the smiles.

He leaned over his desk to tell the jury that the case was extremely serious, and that any levity regarding it was out of place.

Other character witnesses, who said
Warner's reputation was good, were William Mertens of 3554 Sullivan avenue,
a brewery employee; Jacob M. Werner, a clothier; Walter Scott of 3333 Eads avenue, employed by a beef and provision company; Frederick Smith of 2606
North Vandeventer avenue, a milliner; Joseph Kessler of 3115 North Broadway,
a leather dealer, and Charles M. Herman of 3321 North Broadway.

Extraordinary precautions were taken
Tuesday by Judge Muench and Circuit
Attorney Sager to prevent any tampering with the jury. Meals are served in the jurors in the courtroom, and they are required to sleep in the Four Courts Building, under the eyes of two deputy sheriffs and three special officers of the Police Department.

The friends of Warner and Priem-eyer, members of the House of Delegates combine, and other persons referred to by Circuit Attorney Sager in his speech to the first Warner jury as
"the gang," are not allowed inside the bar of the courtroom.

Broke In at First Trial.
At the former trial these persons invaded the bar, which is reserved for lawyers and court attaches, and were near at hand throughout the hearing of the case. Mr. Sager has directed the sheriff to keep all persons not entitled to seats within the railing out of this space.

Members of the House combine, who were in constant attendance at the former trial, have not been in evidence since the second trial began. Only "Jig-gers" Gallagher of the Third Ward dropped in Monday to see what progress
was being made with the case.

Jurors Asked of Week.
Henry L. Weekes of the Seventeenth Ward has not appeared for this trial, although he was constantly in attendance at the other. Mr. Sager today questioned all jurors from the Seventeenth Ward as to their acquaintance with Weekes.

A lawyer who has practiced in the Criminal Courts for years said the jury impressed him as being a good one for the State. The jury is composed of five clerks, two printers, one collector, one salesman, one foreman,

one machinist and one motorman.
The jury was selected after a careful examination of the taxmen by Circuit Attorney Sager and the lawyers for the defense, the following being chosen:

Boone, V. H. Johnson, assistant to the president of the Scullin-Gallagher Iron and Steel Co., 5463 Vernon avenue.
John F. Backer, clerk, 1895 South
Fourteenth street.
Charles Adler, grocer, 744 South
Fourth street.
Charles Baertlin, salesman, 3615 Mc-Donald avenue.
Henderson R. Beaven, clerk, 4252 Delmar boulevard.
Julius V. Becker, printer, 3405 Itas-ka street.
Edwin F. Bowman, printer, 4121
Prairie avenue.
William H. Cave, collector, 4549
Labadie avenue.
James Davis, foreman for the Temporal Railroad Association, 2822 Virbranks avenue.
Thomas F. Doyle, clerk, 6920 Virginia avenue.
Ernest Duchaupt, machinist, 5355
Macnolla avenue.
Charles W. Elder, motorman, 2749
Clara avenue.

NONUNIONIST, ATTACKED BY STRIKERS, JAILS ONE BY ROSE

Obtains Card of Assailant, Saying
He Will Join Union—Gives Police the Name.

Fred L. Musick, who took the route driver for years by John P. Maloney and the latter was on a strike with 20 teamsters of the St. Louis Express
Co., related in the City Hall Police Court how he had the presence of mind, while being thrashed as a non-union man by Maloney and three friends, to plan and execute a ruse by which he learned Maloney's identity and address and made it possible to have him arrested and prosecuted.

Musick was driving on Watson road near Stanton avenue Saturday afternoon, he testified, when Maloney, then a stranger to him, and three companions, walked him, dragged him from the wagon, tied his hands behind him with a cord and beat him. Maloney sat on his head, he testified, while his hands were being tied.

"If you'll let me go I'll join the union," pleaded Musick.
"Sure," he said Maloney answered,
"and take this card of mine when you apply for membership."

Musick went to the nearest telephone, called up the police and reading from the card, stated that one of his assailants was John P. Maloney of 6224 South Seventh street.

Maloney was arrested on his return home. He declined to say anything in his own defense, and was fined $100. He appealed.

DR. DIETZ LOSES SUIT FOR TREATING DR. L. H. M'GABE

Bill for $10,774 Was Disputed on Ground That Visits Were Social.

Dr. Adolphus Dietz of 1226 South Broadway will not get $10,774 from the estate of Dr. Louis L. McCabe for visiting Dr. McCabe when he was sick. His suit for that amount against John H.
Farrish, administrator, was decided against him in Judge Rule's court Tuesday.

Dr. Dietz's bill was for $11,230, but credits to the amount of $556 were deducted and he sued for the balance. The services were alleged to have been performed while Dr. McCabe was a patient at Mullany Hospital from Sept. 18, 1935, to April 18, 1936. For some visits
he charged $5 and some $30.

The defense was that the calls of Dr.
Dietz were social and not professional.
The claim was first disallowed in the Probate Court.

Albert L. Perkins Bankrupt.
Albert L. Perkins of 4410 Washington boulevard filed a petition in bankruptcy Tuesday in the United States District Court. He listed his assets
at $14,957 and his liabilities at $29, 725. He is head of the Perkins Transfer and Forwarding Co., 1437 North Second street. He also is an official of the Logan Motor Dispatch Co., and

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.
Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, obtained by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act
most beneficially, and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome California blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy, and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it.
If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

MISSING MOTOR BUGGY IS RETURNED, BUT DAMAGED

Arthur Baker Wants to Know Who Drove It Away, Then Brought
It Back.

Arthur Baker, who conducts an automobile repair shop at 455 Fairfax avenue, is anxious to find the man who drove his motor buggy away from his place of business Monday evening.

Baker recovered his machine, but when he did it was damaged and he missed
a job in its absence.

At 8 p. m. Baker received a telephone message requesting him to call downtown and repair a machine. Baker put on his hat and hurried to the sidewalk.
His buggy was not there.

He looked all about the neighborhood
for it, and, finding no trace of it anywhere, reported its disappearance to the police.

At 6 a. m. Tuesday the machine was back in its accustomed place, but the mechanism was out of order. Baker suspects a young man who was in his employ at one time.

TOWER RAN MARRIAGE BUREAU, WRITER SAYS

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch
BERLIN, April 21.—A remarkable article on alleged improprieties, even corruption, in the German diplomatic societies, the Deutsche Revue, a political weekly, takes occasion to say:

"Mr. Tower's purse permitted him to have the Kaiser frequently as a guest,
and to summon to his own expense
from all the ends of the earth personalities to meet the Kaiser, whom His Majesty found interesting."

"There was also no particular harm
in the fairlike apartments of Mr.
Tower's residence becoming a species of marriage bureau, where German and American dollars met; for by this means the Ambassador learned much that went on in countries where the ducal crowns were at home which he could use to political advantage."

EPISCOPALIAN RECEIVED INTO CATHOLIC FAITH

The Rev. Dr. Russell J. Wilbur Confirmed at Florissant.

The Rev. Dr. Russell J. Wilbur, former dean of the Chicago Cathedral, has left the Episcopal Church and become a Catholic. He was formally received into the Catholic Church on Easter Sunday by the Jesuit Fathers
in their novitiate at Florissant, Mo.

Dr. Wilbur's step has aroused much comment in religious circles throughout the country. He severed his connection with the Episcopal Church
three weeks ago and it was known he contemplated embracing Catholicism.

The announcement that he has been formally received into the Church of Rome has occasioned much discussion, especially in Fond du Lac, Wis., where three weeks ago Dr. Wilbur was archdeacon in the Episcopal diocese.

Fond du Lac is home of Ritualism.
It was in the religious world as the seat of the High Churches of the Episcopalians. The ritual of the ceremonies there approach more nearly that of the Catholic religion than in any other part of the country.

Dr. Wilbur is well-known as an orator. He has also been a leader in philanthropic work. He was considered one of the brilliant young men of the Episcopal Church. He has just passed his thirty-ninth year.

The ceremony of his reception into the new faith took place in the little chapel of the Jesuits at Florissant.
One hundred priests were present. It was received by the Rev. James T.
Pinn, S. J.

Will Not Become Jesuit.
Dr. Wilbur is still at Florissant and will remain there for some time. He says he will not become a Jesuit. His reason for this is probably because Jesuits do not admit converts into their order until they have been in the Catholic Church five years.

Dr. Wilbur is a graduate of Northwestern University. He has been in the ministry of the Episcopal Church five years. His first position of importance was in the cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, Chicago, where he established a reputation as an orator.

He was sent from Chicago to Fond du Lac, where Bishop Grafton appointed him an archdeacon.

POST-DISPATCH ITEMS TO BRING FAMILY REUNION

Miss Alma Speckard's Sister
Here Learns of Desire to See Her.

WORD SENT TO FATHER

Estrangement From Him Ended by News of Long Lost Young Woman.

A family reunion will follow the publication of an item in the Sunday Post-Dispatch in which Miss Alma Speckard, now of 754 Eighth avenue, New York, asked the readers of this paper to help find her father, George C. Speckard, formerly of 2615 Gravois avenue, whom she has not seen for eight years.

While reading the newspaper Sunday morning, James Lamont, husband of Mrs. Emma Lamont of 2940 Lucas avenue, startled his wife by inquiring: "Didn't you have a sister by the name of Alma?"

Mrs. Lamont replied in the affirmative, but became provoked, thinking her husband was jesting when he read the item. She was greatly surprised when she learned the truth. Miss Alma Speckard is a long-lost sister of Mrs. Lamont.

Lost Trace of Sister.
"Through an illness which deprived me of my sight for a year," Mrs. Lamont told a Post-Dispatch reporter, "I lost trace of my sister Alma, and despaired of hearing from her or seeing her again. When I saw the item in the Post-Dispatch that she was seeking our father, George C. Speckard, who now lives at 2645 Odell avenue, I was overjoyed."

"The Post-Dispatch has done us a wonderful service. My father and I have been estranged through a trifling matter for many years, but this incident led me to write to my father, calling his attention to Alma's request. I think it is likely Alma intends to come here to visit us, and we will have a family reunion."

"Alma, a 15-year-old brother, who lives with father, and myself, are the only children in the family."

Mrs. Lamont will also communicate with Miss Speckard and renew the old acquaintance of their girlhood days.

POST-DISPATCH FINDS MOTHER OF A CAPTIVE

Charles Ross, Now in Mexican Prison, to Be Aided as a Result of Article.

Last Sunday the Post-Dispatch published a letter which it had received from a St. Louis man, Charles Ross, written in a Mexican prison, requesting this paper to find his mother, Mrs. A. J. Ross.

His mother, Mrs. A. J. Ross of 1229 Salisbury street, read the letter and called for and got a letter which had been enclosed to her in the communication from Mexico.

In his letter Ross told his mother that while in a cafe in Vera Cruz he had got into an altercation with an English sailor, and that when the police interfered they could not make themselves understood, with the result that Ross and the sailor were taken up and put in a scuffle, during which the Mexican policeman used his club to such effect that Ross spent eight days in a hospital.

Mrs. Ross said she had not seen her son for three years. He had gone west to prospect for gold and had wandered through Southern California and into Mexico.

In his letter Ross said he had been deprived of everything and was without writing paper or the most ordinary comforts, and feared that he would be "railroaded" to prison for eight months unless he could be helped.

His address was given as the Carcel Publica, or Public Jail, in Vera Cruz. Mrs. Ross will ask the aid of Mr. E. Diebold, Mexican Consul, in sending financial relief to her son.

BRIDEGROOM FAILS TO GET GERMAN PIANO AT AUCTION

Brother of the Consignee Takes Instrument at Twice Its Cost
at Federal Sale.

A German-made piano, shipped from Rotterdam by a man living in Amsterdam on the steamer Potsdam to his brother, Hugo Anschuetz, a St. Louis musician, was auctioned off by United States Marshal Morrey Tuesday at the old Customs House for twice its cost abroad, owing to the spirited bidding of Moses Fraley, who sent the price soaring in leaps of $50 and $75.

He finally gave way, however, to the persistence of Otto Anschuetz, a brother of the original consignee, who took it at $55.

Mr. Fraley was accompanied by a young friend, who wished to present a foreign-made piano to his bride. Fraley bid for him, and did not wish to stop when the young man demurred at paying $55. The piano was seized by the Government in October, 1906, because it was learned that the instrument was a new one and therefore subject to duty, which had not been paid.

UGH! HEAP BIG BLACKFOOT CHIEF TAKEN TO DIS- PENSARY WITH SCALP, AND TAKE HIS SCALP

Blackfoot Chief Taken to Dispensary With Scalp, and Scalp Sewed.

DROWNED BY FIREWATER

Meant to Follow White Men's Road, Finds It a Rock-and-Rye Pathway.

The morning mists hung about the crests of the deep canyon at Ninth and Chestnut streets Tuesday, and everything was hazy and uncertain before the eyes of Big Chief, the Blackfoot warrior, as he stumbled along the trail beneath a burden of Market street firewater.

Big Chief was full of spirits, both from the firewater and the fact that he had gone upon the warpath. Before his vision hung a blood-red mist. It was the flame of war.

He knew he was in the land of his foes. He saw them everywhere. Strange figures, always in pairs, identically alike. Even the white men's ponies he saw double. He was in a strange land of twins. It marveled him.

Big Chief was weary, for the night in the canyon of Market street had been one of sturdy fighting. His enemy was Chief Boose, who had made him bite the asphalt more than once. But again the spirit of war was strong within him.

Chases "Buffalo Men."
He was surrounded by his enemies, who jeered him, and the hot blood rose to his head.

Waving his arms he challenged them, but the more he urged them to come and taste his steel the louder they laughed. Suddenly "buffalo men," known in the big white men's reservation as negroes.

In his youth he had fought the "buffalo soldiers" on his native plains, in Wyoming and Montana, and he hated them with all the bitterness of a Blackfoot.

Reaching out his brawny arm, he seized them, bumped their heads together and threw them contemptuously from him to the ground.

But from the crowd there emerged a warrior worthy of his prowess, one clad in blue, a chief with a star of silver on his breast.

Blue Warriors Appear.
"Hah! Here's where I spill warrior blood!" shouted Big Chief, clashing the warrior, who was none other than Patrolman Lane, around the neck and trying to throw him.

At that moment another chief of the silver star dashed through the jeering crowd, accompanied by three fighters of fire and firewater from Engine House No. 6.

Big Chief sent up a cry to the Manitou and tackled them all.

The battle was of short duration, for the white men piled their war clubs so swiftly and skillfully that Big Chief's head soon resembled a pudding.

The white chiefs had got his scalp. It was the last of the day's fighting, with him attached to it, and it was sewed up.

Held for Chief Tracy.
Big Chief was then locked up in the big stone house of the white men, a captive for the torture of the great White Chief Tracy, who sits on a cloud of thunder and shoots the lightning of justice at wrongdoers.

Big Chief bore in his warbag a letter from the Government to the effect that he was to be sent to the city dispensary, where he is looking for work, being desirous of "traveling" white man's road.

Poor Big Chief found the road so rocky Monday morning that he expressed a wish to return to the gold-mining prairie in the West, where the ground is softer.

MOTORMAN SAVES KING ALFONSO'S LIFE; GETS $10

MADRID, April 21.—It was worth $10 for a trolley motorman to save the life of King Alfonso yesterday. Incidentally, the motorman got a big bunch of royal thanks.

Alfonso, with Prince Leopold of Battemberg and the Infanta Prince Alfonso of Orleans, was speeding his automobile to the Government palace, when, in a sudden dash around a corner, the machine ran straight for a street car. The motorman's quick work saved a disaster. King Alfonso passed out a provision of thanks and followed it with a gift of 50 pesetas, or $10 in American money.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Formula for a Complexion Restorer Popular Among Social Leaders.

For classical features none compare with American women, but as is well known features count for little if not accompanied by a good complexion. This formula for a toilet preparation, which, although very simple, is probably the most popular now in use among the ladies of the upper social sets in our large cities, for the preservation of their highly prized complexions, is as follows:

Two ounces Rose Water; one ounce Cologne Spirit; four ounces Sarsaparilla; Put the Sarsaparilla in a pint of hot water (not boiling), and when dissolved and cooled add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirit and strain through a fine cloth. Any large bottle will serve as a receptacle. These ingredients are obtainable from any well stocked druggist and very easily mixed.

The results are said to be truly remarkable and commence to show after the first few applications, but the treatment should be continued until the glow to the complexion is permanent.

WOMEN ARTISTS READY FOR FIRST PUBLIC EXHIBIT

Three Days' Showing, With One Reception, at Guild Hall.

LEAGUE HAS HIGH IDEAS

Seeks to Elevate Tone of Work Done and to Interest City.

The Woman's Art League of St. Louis will hold its first public exhibition at the Artists' Guild, Von Versen and Union avenues, April 23, 24 and 25. The members of the league will give a reception to their friends Thursday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The League was organized less than a year ago by Mrs. H. C. Irish, the president, and now has a membership of thirty of the leading women artists of the city.

League to Advance Art.
The object of the League is to provide a place for mutual intercourse among the women artists of St. Louis, to extend a helpful influence toward the growth of truth, beauty and spirituality in art, and to hold exhibitions representing the best work done by women in painting, sculpture and crafts.

The exhibition will contain paintings in all mediums, designs, ceramic decoration, pottery, sculpture and crafts.

"There are many women in St. Louis who do excellent work," said Mrs. Irish. "There are about six girls to one boy in the art school, and while in the school the girls compete with the boys, after they leave the school they seem to lose interest in their work, because few of them enter the exhibitions."

"We have organized the League to establish a place of exhibition. There is a similar organization in New York and the women of the New York City are recognized as among the strongest painters of America."

Women as Capable as Men.
"That women are capable of doing just as strong and interesting work as the men was shown in the recent Western Artist Exhibition at the Museum of Fine Arts. Much of the strongest work in that exhibition was from the brushes of the women members."

"We welcome all the women artists of the city who do good work. We have set a high standard, because we want only the best that there is in art. Many of our members have studied abroad and a number have received 'Hors Concours' in the St. Louis School of Fine Arts. Many of our members have never exhibited their work before the public, but some of them are already well known to the art public of the city."

MARGUERITE BREEN

WATTERSON SEES BRYAN VICTOR

Says Movement Backing Gov.
Johnson Started Too Late.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 21.—(Morse) Henry Watterson of Louisville, after breakfasting with W. J. Bryan at the Hoffman House, uttered sentiments which surprised those who have been reading his editorials closely. He said:

"Personally, I have no doubt Mr. Bryan will be nominated at Denver, and I think the Democrats have a good chance to elect him. The movement in the interest of Gov. Johnson comes too late and from the wrong quarter."

"If the interests now urging his nomination had backed me up when I advocated his candidacy 10 months ago he might have had a chance of the nomination. But the Democrats of New York in the present chaotic condition cannot dictate to the majority of the party."

Col. Watterson said he looked to see Secretary Taft named by the Republicans.

Shoots Wife, Kills Himself.
BELLARE, O., April 21.—Jacob Ashoff, an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad here, returned from work this morning and shot his wife in the face with a revolver. He then killed himself. The wife will recover. The couple had been married less than a year.

MRS. EMILY PHELPS, RECORDING SECRETARY, WOMAN'S ART LEAGUE.

DECLARES NEW DISCOVERY RESCUED HIM FROM DEATH

Louis De Grun is described as having been a full-grown boy of 19, but unable, two weeks before he made the following signed statement, to work or even lift an empty salt barrel.

"After only two weeks," this happy young man is reported as saying, "I weighed as much as ever and was almost well and strong. The terrible pains in my back and chest were gone. I coughed very little and had no more night sweats."

"I fully believe that Phenomenal Kraus' medical specialists at 523 Chestnut saved me from death from consumption."

"A St. Louis doctor had treated me, but did me no good. Then friends told me they had seen Phenomenal Kraus' specialists do wonderful cures, and I went to them."

"They gave me only two treatments. Three days after the first I was able to go to work."

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

John McIntyre, 23 years old, non-chalantly told Judge Tracy in the City Hall Police Court Tuesday how he scraped acquaintance with brown-eyed Margaret Carroll at Forest Park Highlands Monday night tempted her to take three glasses of whiskey and accompanied her to Pine street and Jefferson avenue, where she fell helpless.

"I'll fine you $50," interrupted Judge Tracy, sternly.

The girl, who scarcely looked her 13 years, sat with bowed head, murmured a refusal to make a statement in her own behalf.

"You're more sinned against than sinning," said the Court. "I'll discharge you. She was charged with intoxication on a public street."

McIntyre is a florist, who lives at 4714 Vernon avenue. With friends, he testified, he went to the Highlands, where he met the girl.

Sergeant Hoffmann of the Manchester Avenue Police Station said that he found Margaret Carroll unconscious in the street shortly after midnight. He took her in his arms and started to carry her to a police box. McIntyre interfered, the policeman said, and tried to drag the girl from his arms. The florist was then arrested and the two spent the night at the police station.

CLUBWOMEN WORK TO HAVE
WEST END STREETS CLEANED

Committee From Federation Will Confer With Civic League in Effort to Get Results.

A committee representing the Federation of Women's Clubs will confer with representatives of the Civic League as to the best means to adopt to have West end streets cleaned. The committee was appointed at the suggestion of Mrs. George J. Frankel, and is composed of Mrs. H. M. Cole, Mrs. John Matser and Mrs. Charlotte Buchanan. Mrs. Frankel said Tuesday that the club women hoped to avoid getting into the streets themselves to do the cleaning.

"Delmar boulevard, from Taylor avenue to Union boulevard is a disgrace to the city," Mrs. Frankel said. "The gutters are filled with tin cans and rubbish, and many of the vacant lots are extremely unsightly. Washington avenue, near Whittier street, is nearly as bad."

"In Kansas City the club women are authorized to report such matters to the Street Commissioners, and they act at once. The city officials in Kansas City are perfectly lovely to the club women, and I think the fact that Kansas City is much cleaner than St. Louis is due to the efforts of club women."

"The Civic League properly has assumed the initiative in efforts to improve the streets, and it is our desire to co-operate with the league. We will decide at the meeting next week just what we shall do about it."

EVERETTE ST. JOHN IS DEAD

Was a Prominent Figure in Pullman Strike in '04.

WELLESLEY, Mass., April 21.—Everette St. John, for many years one of the most prominent railway officials of the country, died today at his home in Wellesley. He was born in 1844, and was first employed with the old Housatonic Railroad. In 1888 he began his connection with the Rock Island system, of which he became general manager.

He was chairman of the General Managers Association of all the railroads entering Chicago, and occupied this position during the great Pullman strike in 1894. In 1896 he resigned to become vice-president and general manager of the Seaboard Air Line and in 1901 retired.

JAP SHIPS TO VISIT CHINA;

TAKEN AS A HOSTILE MOVE

Mikado's Squadron Has Not Been Invited and Attempt to Blow
It Up Is Feared.

PEKIN, April 21.—Announcement that a Japanese squadron of 15 battleships, cruisers and destroyers is to visit Foo Chow, Samow and Canton, China, is accepted in Government circles as a distinctly hostile move on the Mikado's part.

The visit is uncollected and the Japanese explanation that it is purely friendly is not heeded in the least. Officialdom interprets it as a warning to the Chinese of what they may expect unless a speedy halt is called on the anti-Japanese boycott.

The general opinion is that it will have the opposite effect. Considerable uneasiness is felt lest attempts be made to blow up the visiting warships.

BISHOP MAKES DAUGHTER WIFE OF RICH FEUDIST

Miss Elvira Millsbaugh and Chauncey Dewey Are Married in Topeka.

HE OPPOSED BERRYS

Millionaire and Friends Were Acquitted of Three Kansas Killings.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TOPEKA, Kan., April 21.—Bishop Frank Millsbaugh of the Episcopal Church performed the ceremony that made his daughter, Elvira, wife of Chauncey Dewey of Chicago, millionaire leader on the victorious side in the Dewey-Berry feud in Western Kansas in 1906.

Immediately after the wedding in Grace Cathedral Monday evening the bride party went to Bishop Millsbaugh's home, where there was a reception. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey then departed for the East. They will sail for Europe next week.

Wanted Touch of the West.
Chauncey Dewey and his father had invested largely in Kansas lands, when the young man, fresh from a large Eastern university, determined to see life in the West and do something more than lead ostentatious and drive six-cylinder automobiles.

He elected to go to Western Kansas, where he could let his energies develop with the country. He had thousands of acres in Northwestern Kansas and he fenced in large tracts. Small farmers objected and the feud with the Berry family resulted. When it ended three Berrys were dead and there were three charges of murder against Dewey and his men, all of which were dismissed by the Supreme Court, after one case had been tried and a verdict of not guilty on the ground of self-defense rendered.

Meanwhile Chauncey met Miss Millsbaugh, the Bishop's daughter, in Topeka. He loved her and told her so. Chicago loved her, but the man from Kansas pleaded her best.

Farmers Made Complaint.
The conflict between Dewey and his men and the poorer settlers is a chapter in the history of the West. The settlers said the ranchmen fenced up their holdings so that the small farmers had no way of egress. On the other hand, the ranchmen maintained that fences were cut, cattle maimed and property rights invaded.

After a period of bitter enmity, both sides went armed, and a conflict was inevitable. On a June morning in 1903, Chauncey Dewey, accompanied by W. J. McBride, Clyde Wilson and seven other ranchmen, went to the Berry ranch, near by, to get a water tank Dewey had purchased the day before at a sheriff's sale. Daniel Berry, father of the Berry boys, parleyed. While the argument was going on, the Berry boys, Alpheus, Burch, Roy and Beach, rode up.

Three Berry Boys Slain.
It never was made clear how the fight began, but what happened after that was a general engagement with rifles and revolvers. Daniel, Alpheus and Burch Berry were killed and Roy and Beach were badly wounded. Dewey and his friends returned to his ranch and waited for the Sheriff, who arrested them next day.

They pleaded self-defense, alleging that the Berrys began the shooting, and refused to go with the Sheriff unless assured of protection from the enraged settlers. The Governor sent a company of militia to the scene and Dewey and his friends were tried at Norton on a

TEXAN SHOOT NEGRESS; THEN ENDS OWN LIFE

Murder and Suicide in Woman's Home End Prominent Career.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 21.—Eugene C. Payne, a well-known real estate dealer and connected with several of the best families of Texas and Mississippi, shot and almost instantly killed Amelia Cox, a light colored negress, better known as Dot Lehmann and Dot Dennis, about midnight last night and then turned the weapon upon himself, sending two bullets through his own brain, dying immediately.

The shooting occurred in the woman's home at 224 Franklin avenue. No one saw the shooting, but others in the house declare they heard the woman cry: "Oh, Mr. Payne, don't kill me," and then came the shots.

Judging from the empty cartridges found on the floor Payne evidently emptied the revolver at the woman and then reloaded to end his own life.

Payne was a widower and leaves surviving him, so far as known, but one son, living in Mississippi.

TAFT WORKERS TRY TO WIN NEW HAMPSHIRE DELEGATION

Demand That Resolution Preferring Him Be Embodied in the Platform.

CONCORD, N. H., April 21.—The Taft men went into the Republican State Convention today, determined to better the performance of their co-workers in Massachusetts by several points. Early the probabilities of a fight on the convention floor seemed probable. At a midnight session the Taftites framed their resolution and then demanded its incorporation in the platform. Here is the resolution in its original form:

"Resolved, That while we are in favor of sending an unimpaired delegation to Chicago, it is our earnest belief that the man for the time, above all others, embodying every element of a triumphant candidate and a successful administration, is the lion, W. H. Taft of Ohio."

The fight over this measure was still being waged in the Committee on Resolutions this morning.

The regular organization, which has a decided majority in this committee, is opposed to preferential resolutions of any kind, and it seemed likely before the convention convened that the fight would be carried to the floor of the convention.

The Taft League has issued a statement that a poll of 550 of the 1131 delegates showed 490 for Taft, 32 for Hughes, 15 for Roosevelt, 2 for Cannon and 1 each for Knox and Copley.

TWIN SISTERS ELOPE; FORGIVEN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WINSTED, Conn., April 21.—Eva and Ethel Dillon, twin sisters, of Manchester, introduced themselves to their parents yesterday as Mrs. Edward Warner and Mrs. Emil Hicking, respectively.

After they had shown their marriage certificates they were forgiven. Instead of attending a theatrical performance in Hartford on Good Friday, as they told their parents they intended doing, the sisters went with Warner and Hicking to Springfield and were married.

One couple stood as witnesses for the other. The twins are 18 years old and both bridegrooms are less than 20.

CAPE GIRARDEAU WOMAN IS HELD AT CITY HOSPITAL

Mrs. Mamie Hartzell, Fashionably Attired, Found Wandering on the Streets.

Mrs. Mamie Hartzell of Cape Girardeau, Mo., a fashionably dressed woman found wandering hatless about the streets in the vicinity of Sarah and Olive streets at 5 a. m. Tuesday by Policeman Quinlan, is held for observation at the City Hospital.

At a boarding house, 3322 West Belle place, which Mrs. Hartzell gave as her address, it was stated Tuesday she came there a week ago with her husband. She has been suffering from nervousness. It was stated, and has been under the care of a physician. She was heard to leave the house at 2 a. m. Tuesday.

Has the President Heard of This?

From the Rochester Herald.

After many months of training, Mrs. Mary Lightfoot of Warsaw, Ind., has taught a common house mouse to walk to the music of a harp. Every evening at exactly 7:30 the rodent appears in Miss Lightfoot's music room and will enjoy an hour's dancing. Then a supper of grated cheese is given the little animal, which, after finishing, twirls his whiskers and this head and shoos back to his hiding place.

IF YOU LIVE IN BELLEVILLE YOU'LL HAVE TO CLEAN UP

Mayor Requests Every Citizen to Scour His House and Lawn Friday and Saturday.

May day is to be cleaning day, by official fiat, in Belleville. Mayor Kern issued a proclamation Tuesday declaring that every good citizen should clean his house and lawn Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, and pile all the rubbish in the street, where the city employees could get it and cart it away.

LABOR MUST CHANGE ATTITUDE

By Wire from the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Unless the attitude of organized labor is changed, no amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law will be undertaken at this session. President Roosevelt and the Republican leaders in both houses are agreed on that.

Senator Aldrich and others have repeatedly announced that whenever organized labor outlines a "reasonable" program it will be given prompt consideration.

WABASH ROAD SELLS $889,000 OF BONDS IN REFUNDING DEAL

Takes Up Maturing Issues, Including Those for St. Charles Bridge.

The Wabash Railroad Co. announced Tuesday that it had sold to Tabor & Co. of New York $889,000 of Wabash first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds to take up $421,000 St. Louis, Council Bluffs & Omaha Railroad Co. first mortgage 4 per cent bonds and $468,000 St. Louis, Kansas City & Northern Railway, St. Charles bridge first mortgage 6 per cent bonds. With this sale of the Wabash bonds the total authorized issue is now outstanding.

Vice-President E. B. Pryor of the Wabash, explaining the transaction, said: "When the Wabash was founded in 1880 it was contemplated in the issue of $35,000,000 first mortgage bonds to have them take up all underlying bonds as they matured."

The St. Louis, Council Bluffs & Omaha bonds matured July 1. The St. Charles bridge bonds issued by the St. Louis, Kansas City & Northern Railway matured October 1. The total is $889,000. Wabash bonds to have them sold to take them up. It is simply a refunding transaction."

The legitimate paid circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of all other English dailies combined.

MANTELL AS "LEAR"
Amphion Club Season Closes
With Memorable Concert
at Odeon.

PLAYGOERS' GUIDE.

OLYMPIC—Robert Mantell in repertoire. Finely impressive production. Star supported by well-balanced company.

CENTURY—Lillian Russell in "Wildfire." Bright racing comedy. Miss Russell does clever work. Well supported.

GRAND—Grace Cameron in "Little Dimples." Entertaining musical comedy, well presented.

IMPERIAL—May Hosmer in "The Holy City." Commendable production of Biblical drama by star and good supporting company.

HAYLINS—"Deadwood Dick's Last Shot." Western melodrama cleverly staged and presented. Good specialty by Vic Burns.

COLUMBIA—Entertaining vaudeville bill, headed by Gus Edwards' Blonde Typewriter.

AMERICAN—Good vaudeville bill with Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher as top liners.

FOREST PARK HIGHLANDS—Vaudeville, band concerts and amusement concessions.

STANDARD—The Merry Maidens. Burlesque and vaudeville.

GAYETY—Harry Bryant's company. Burlesque and vaudeville.

THE Century Theater was the scene of much enthusiasm last night, the occasion being the annual benefit of Treasurer "Billy" Cave and Assistant Treasurer Charlie Nall, with Miss Lillian Russell in "Wildfire" as the attraction. The racing comedy in which she appears this season is a brightly entertaining play, the star has lost none of the beauty for which she has long been famous and, in addition, she is developing a gift for dramatic comedy which is full of promise for her future.

In the role of the fascinating widow, Mrs. Henrietta Barrington, who has inherited a racing stable and who becomes a turf figure under an assumed name, Miss Russell does very clever work indeed and makes a distinctly favorable impression. Excellent character work was done by Herbert Corthell, as Matt Douvan, trainer of the young widow's great horse, Wildfire, and by Will Arcole, as a diminutive stable boy, and the work of the company as a whole is much above the average.

MANTELL IN "KING LEAR."

One of the most notable triumphs scored by Mr. Mantell during his St. Louis engagement last season was in "King Lear," and this triumph was repeated at the Olympic last night, when an admirable production of Shakespeare's majestic tragedy was given. Mr. Mantell presents a masterly portrayal of the role of the mad old King of Britain, hurried to his pitiful fate by the cruelty of his daughters, the part being one of the best in all his repertoire. He was most capably supported last night, especially by Miss Marie Booth Russell as Goneril, Mr. Guy Lindley as the Fool, Mr. Francis McDonnell as Edgar, Mr. H. Cooper Cliffe as Edmund and Mr. Gordon Burby as Kent.

Bulwer-Lytton's fine old play, "Richard III," is tonight's bill, for the benefit of Assistant Treasurer "Dick" Ritchie and Doorkeeper Streeter of the Olympic.

AMPHION CLUB CONCERT.

The Amphion Club's season was brought to its close at the Odeon last night with one of the most successful and memorable concerts of the year. The soloists were Mrs. Carreno, pianist, and Alois Burgstaller, Wagnerian tenor, both of whom distinguished themselves by excellent achievement, and the club's choral work was especially enjoyable.

Mrs. Carreno was heard in Beethoven's Sonata No. 27, three Chopin compositions and a group of Schumann and Schubert-Liszt compositions. Mr. Burgstaller sang Wagner's "Liebeslied aus Walkure," Strauss' "Morgen," Brahms' "Auf dem Kirchhofe" and a tenor number from "Die Meistersinger." The club numbers comprised Dudley Buck's "Huzza," Mr. Robyn's "Answer," arranged as a part song; "Run It Out," a motto song, by the same composer, whose own conductors of the choral numbers was excellently effective; a humorous version of "The Carnival of Venice" and F. A. Vogel's "Arion Waltz."

CABANNE HOPES FOR PUBLIC PARK, NOT BEER GARDEN

Delegate Dwight F. Davis Suggests a Plan to Protective Association.

The disputed triangle in Cabanne, bounded by Eitel, Julian, Clara and Blackstone avenues, may become a public park instead of a beer garden or an "Old English Inn," if the plan suggested by Delegate Dwight F. Davis is carried out.

Mr. Davis was present at a meeting Monday evening of the Rose Hill Protective Association, which sprang into being to fight the proposed summer garden.

His suggestion was received with favor. In order to condemn the land an ordinance authorizing it must be introduced, and both Mr. Davis and Delegate Vincent McShane, also in attendance, expressed readiness to do this.

"That's a beautiful residence district," Mr. Davis told a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday. "And it deserves a little park, such as Kendrick Park, at Lindell boulevard and Vandeventer avenue."

"It ought to have a park, without regard to the summer garden question. Just what sort of park will be taken has not been determined yet."

The irregular plot of ground in question is said to be the only unrestricted block in Cabanne, and the purchasers, who propose to build a summer garden there, say there is no way to prevent the issuance of a license.

But a committee headed by Attorney John P. Leahy has obtained a promise from Excise Commissioner Mulvihill that he will hear a remonstrance before granting the license.

SHURTLEFF SOPHOMORES ARE TIED TO TREES BY FRESHMEN

Alton School Scene of Class War, Which Keeps Several From Attending Banquet.

Lester Landon, Chester Slifer and Edward Benden, sophomores of Shurtleff College, Upper Alton, spent Monday evening on the college lawn tied to trees, while the rest of the sophomores were banqueting at the home of Prof. E. G. Ray.

They were seized by groups of freshmen as they were entering the yard and were torn from the girls they were escorting and borne away and bound with ropes to the trees.

Ralph Jackson was also seized, but he was a match for the freshmen, who tried to carry him away. He threw them off and escaped into the house.

When the sophomores learned what was going on they called forth and captured Raymond Carr, one of the freshmen. He was carried inside, his coat was removed and he was bound to a chair, which was placed at the banquet table, but he was not given anything to eat.

The sophomores were so greatly outnumbered by the freshmen that they were not able to rescue their classmates. After the banquet was over the freshmen released their captives.

WOMAN'S POWER

The healthy woman, strong mentally and physically, whose ambition and magnetic influence urge men to deeds of grandeur and heroism; such women are all-powerful.

Weak, sick and ailing women have little ambition; their own troubles occupy all their thought. They dwell upon their pains, suffer from nervousness and headaches; often are extremely melancholy, and avoid society. For thirty years.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

has been saving women from this awful condition.

Mrs. Louise Jung of 332 Chestnut St., Detroit, Mich., writes: "I suffered from a very severe female ailment for a long time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health. I hope it will do other women as much good as it has me."

Mrs. Emma Wheaton of Vienna, W. Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was a walking shadow. My husband insisted upon my writing to you and trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. It relieved all my pains and misery and made of me a very different woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with headache, dizziness, hot flashes or nervous prostration. Who don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

LIGHT COMPANY LANDS HEAVILY UPON A DENTIST

When Building Is Torn Down
It Cancels His Contract.

QUADRUPLES THE RATE

Charges Him $4 Although Agreement for $1 Service
Is Unexpired.

Dr. Julius Radomski, a dentist, has a lighting problem. He wants to know why twice one is one.

Until the Wells Building, owned by Mayor Wells, at Broadway and Olive street, was torn down, he had offices
there and his contract with the Union Electric Light and Power Co. had a year to run when he was forced to move or be demolished along with the building.

He thinks he might have done better had he stayed and thrown himself on the mercy of the wreckers.

"When I went to the lighting company and told them I had to move and that I had a contract which called for a minimum of $1 a month, it didn't do any good," said Mr. Radomski.

"They told me that all new contracts for business such as I was doing would be made on a basis of $4 a month minimum."

"It didn't seem to make any difference that I had a contract in force.
They said if I didn't agree to the new minimum they wouldn't move my metter."

"I learned that the man who occupied the premises into which I was moving also had an unexpired contract on a $1
basis, but that didn't make any difference either. I had to guarantee the company $4 a month or quit using electricity."

"MISS LURTON" AND CUNNINGHAM IN NEW YORK

Former Register FitzGibbon Met Missing Physician and a Woman Friend.

LOOKING FOR BELASCO

St. Louisan Introduced Doctor to Tammany Members Who Promised Help.

Patrick R. FitzGibbon, former City
Register, just back from New York,
says that while there he saw Dr. P. T.
Cunningham, who disappeared from St.
Louis simultaneously with Mrs. Beulah Lorton Roseberry. Cunningham was with a woman who was introduced to FitzGibbon as Miss Lorton. Cunningham told him he was seeking an engagement on the stage.

FitzGibbon was standing in front of the Vanderbilt Hotel, Forty-second and Lexington avenue, when he saw Cunningham and a woman walking past.

His Guests at Dinner.
The men exchanged greetings and Cunningham and his companion stopped and the physician introduced her. Fitz-Gibbon invited them to dinner at his hotel and they accepted. During the meal nothing was said by Cunningham about the family he had left at 4082 Page boulevard.

In giving FitzGibbon his address,
Cunningham wrote his stage name,
O'Neill, and said he was staying at the Grand Hotel. FitzGibbon called there and found that Cunningham
had not been there. He saw Cunningham later and he explained that he was stopping at a private house, but he gave the hotel address to impress a third person who was present.

Cunningham told FitzGibbon he was in need of an engagement and wanted to meet David Belasco and Daniel Frohman. He said he had not been acquainted with either, but he introduced Cunningham to some members of Tammany Hall, who promised to get him an introduction.

Miss Lorton's said she was staying at the home of a sister, Mrs. Matthews, at Forty-fifth street and Third avenue. She said her sister was about to leave New York, however, and added that she would be home after that.

Told He Would Hear Talk.
Cunningham told FitzGibbon that when he returned to St. Louis he would probably hear something unpleasant about him, but advised him not to take too much stock in it.

"Miss Lorton" said nothing about having a husband in St. Louis, but spoke of her father as a member of the Illinois Legislature and seemed familiar with Illinois politics.

Cunningham said he was getting his mail by the general delivery.

JUDGE REFUSES SUIT MONEY IN CHERRY CASE

Woman Who Claims to Be Common Law Wife Out
of Funds.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PARIS, Mo., April 21.—The trial of the suit of the handsome woman who gives her name as Mrs. Rachel Cherry and who is suing John Cherry, a wealthy Jacksonville, Ill., contractor for $20,000 and a division of his real estate, on the ground that she is his common-law wife, was halted temporarily today when the woman filed a motion asking for temporary alimony and suit money.

She declared that she had no funds with which to proceed, and lacked even sufficient money to support herself.

Judge Ebey overruled the motion and will be carried to the Supreme Court.
The trial will not proceed until a decision is announced there.

Sues After Wedding.
Cherry, then a widower, was married in 1897 to Miss Lina Baskett of this city, daughter of the former State Building and Loan Commissioner. Four months later the woman who calls herself "Mrs. Cherry" came to Paris and filed her suit.

According to her story, Cherry and she lived together as man and wife in St. Louis and East St. Louis for several months. His first wife was not dead when this occurred, she alleges.

Her petition states that she had been turned out of her home in a small town near Bloomington, Ill., by her parents because she persisted in her affair with Cherry.

While they were living together, she alleges, Cherry agreed to make her his wife and on his legal wife was dead.
Immediately after his wife died, he was asked to fulfill this agreement, the petition says. —a put her up, she alleges, and finally agreed to enter into a common law marriage. She says this occurred in their apartments, without witnesses, Cherry simply saying to her,
"Rachel, you are my lawful wife," to which, she says, she responded, "John Cherry, you are my lawful husband."

In support of her motion for temporary alimony, the woman today introduced several affidavits in an effort to prove that Cherry had recognized her publicly as his wife. One of these was by Landlord Wales of the Wales Hotel
in East St. Louis, who swore that Cherry and the plaintiff registered as man
and wife and lived there for 10 months.
Mrs. Eleanor Higgins of Chicago stated in her deposition that Cherry had called the plaintiff his wife several times in her presence.

Woman's Past Attacked.
The defense attacked the woman's past, alleging that her daughter Dorothy, aged 12, was the daughter of a Clinton (Ill.) man.

"Mrs. Cherry" admitted this, alleging that the man had deceived her by a mock marriage.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE DESTROYS ILLINOIS TOWN

Vergennes Had No Department and Is Wiped Out at Night.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., April 21.—Vergennes, a pretty village of about 1200 inhabitants in the northern part of Jackson County, was practically wiped out by a mysterious fire which started at 1 o'clock this morning.

The inhabitants were aroused by the ringing of church bells. Vergennes had no fire department, and for awhile there was a panic.

Sheridan Carlsale, an attorney, and H.
O. Burrows, Illinois Central Railroad agent, formed the men into a bucket brigade and saved several of the buildings in the business district, including the bank and postoffice. The latter two structures were badly damaged, however.

Among the buildings destroyed were those occupied by J. P. Crouch, department store; W. P. Floyd, hardware; August Schimpf, hotel and grocery store;
Ross & Sons, drugs, and several residences.

rial German Commission sent to era of the cholera germ and its antibiotics. His researches there led to his discovery of the cholera germ and its antibiotics.

In 1890 he announced the discovery of a similar method of treating tuberculosis.

Sons of Revolution at Banquet.
The Missouri Society of the Sons of the American Revolution celebrated the anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord with a banquet at the Planters Hotel Monday night. The Rev.
Dr. S. J. Nicolls presided. The banquet was attended by members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Sons of the Revolution and Colonial Wars.

newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

Euchre for Church Benefit.
A euchre and dance will be given at St. John's School Wednesday night for the benefit of St. John's Church. Seventy-five prizes will be awarded and a cash prize of $5 will be given to the best Irish jig dancer. Father Dempsey, Edward Devoy and Jeremiah Sheehan
will act as judges.

How to Brown Hair Without Deception

Mrs. Potter's Walnut-Juice Hair Stain
Can Be Applied in a Few Minutes Every Month.

There is a way of staining gray, faded
or bleached hair any shade desired, from a beautiful rich brown to almost black, so that it is difficult, if not impossible, for even experts to detect that the hair has been treated in any way.

This preparation has the tremendous advantage over half-dyes of containing no silver, mercury or other poisonous substances, and it is not rubbed in, but is variously cause hair-falling. It has no odor, no oil, no sediment and no grease, and does not rub off on the clothing. It makes the hair grow out fluffy and luxuriant.

A liberal amount of a laboratory trial package of this walnut-juice hair-stain, together with a booklet on hair, is sent by Mrs. Potter's Hygienic Supply Co., 459 Groton Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio, in plain, sealed wrapper, if you send the sum of five cents in stamps or coin, and if it is desired to continue the treatment, full sized packages may be obtained
at drug stores for one dollar a package.

It is applied in a few moments with the comb, and it stains nothing but the hair, and stains it evenly from tip to root. It produces any shade desired from a beautiful rich
brown to almost black.

One bottle of this walnut-juice hair-stain
can last a year.

Mrs. Potter's Walnut-Juice Hair Stain is recommended and for sale in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., 6th and Washington streets, and by the following dealers: The Rabattin & Co., Broadway and Locust st., and Johnson Bros., Broadway and Franklin st.

FOLK READY TO OPEN CAMPAIGN TO BEAT STONE

Will Formally Announce Candidacy for Senatorship at St. Joseph Friday.

TO REVIEW HIS RECORD

Will Attack "Old Gang" in Later Address--Not to Be "Ladylike."

JEFFERSON CITY, April 21.--Preparatory to the inauguration of his campaign for United States Senator at St. Joseph Friday night, Gov. Folk and his close political advisers are making a careful survey of the Missouri situation.

The Governor is anxious to cross swords at once with the "old gang," although he has decided to confine his opening address to the record of his own administration and the attitude his critics have assumed toward it during the past two years.

In a short speech, the Governor intends to touch on Senator Stone's public record, particularly that feature of it involving the alum exposures of the baking powder trust.

The St. Joseph meeting is being arranged by James H. McCord, one of the best known Democrats of that city.

Stone Strong in St. Joseph. The Stone following is particularly formidable up there, and the Folk organization is said to have been weakened by the Governor's insistence on the enforcement of the Sunday closing law.

Former Representative Parkinson, Senator Stone's son-in-law, is in charge of the Stone forces.

"I am anxious to begin the campaign at St. Joseph because of the report that I have many enemies there," said the Governor to a friend today.

It was at St. Joseph that the successful Folk campaign for Governor, was launched four years ago.

Declares for Earnest Campaign. "My campaign will be as earnest as I know how to make it," declared Gov. Folk to a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

"I hope to avoid personalities in so far as it may be possible to do so, but at the same time I realize the senatorial contest is not to be a ladylike affair."

Senator Stone's lieutenants here are uneasy over the course Gov. Folk intends to pursue. They are afraid he will revive the story of the alum deal and the notorious Missouri Health Society.

They are still claiming William J. Bryan is for Stone and against Folk and that continued efforts will be made to gain the passage at county conventions of resolutions condemning the Post-Dispatch because of its criticism of Senator Stone and the "Old Gang's" methods.

THOUSANDS WILL CELEBRATE THE "NOVENA OF TUESDAYS"

St. Anthony's Franciscan Church Will Be Shrine of Many Worshippers.

Each week until June 3 thousands of Roman Catholics in St. Louis will celebrate the "Novena of Tuesdays," in preparation for the Feast of St. Anthony of Padua, one of the most renowned saints of the Catholic Church. The majority of the St. Louis Catholics will make their novena at St. Anthony's Franciscan Church, 3140 Meramec street.

The novena is celebrated by reciting the sacraments of penance and eucharist, and making prayers in honor of St. Anthony before his image in a Franciscan church. It is also necessary to visit a Franciscan church during the exposition of the blessed sacrament.

At St. Anthony's Church, the blessed sacrament will be exposed from 5:30 a. m. until 9 a. m. each Tuesday. The sacrament of penance will be given each Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning. The Feast of St. Anthony occurs on June 13.

MAN KILLED, TWO WOMEN HURT IN AUTO SMASHUP

Kansas City Jeweler's Motor Hits Street Car--Wife and Companion Still Unconscious.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 21.--H. N. Konrad, proprietor of a jewelry store, was killed outright and two women companions, one of whom was his wife, were probably fatally injured in the collision of their motor car with a Brooklyn avenue street car late last night.

Both the motor car and the street car were traveling at a high rate of speed when the collision occurred. Konrad and the two women were found 30 feet from where the accident occurred and were lying on the pavement. The man was dead when found, and the women, suffering from numerous injuries, were removed to a hospital, where efforts to restore them to consciousness have been unsuccessful.

HEIRESS REPORTED WED IN WEST

Miss Delano of New York Said to Be Ensign's Bride.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.--A dispatch from Los Angeles says Sarah Delano, the Mamaronck (N. Y.) heiress, was married there on Saturday night last to Ensign Julius H. Collins of the cruiser Charleston.

Miss Delano was involved some time ago in a marriage with Capt. Albert Deane-Held, an Englishman, at one time an officer in the guards.

BULLET SHATTERS WINDOW CLOSE TO GIRL'S HEAD

Miss Birdie Mathews, who keeps house for Samuel Mathews, her father, at 2104

Washington avenue, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday that she was at home to account for the bullet fired into the kitchen of her home Monday. The bullet whizzed close to her head as it broke the glass of the window in which she was sitting. Miss Mathews was talking to Mrs. Lord, a boarder, when the shot was fired. She says she knows of no motive, and thinks the bullet must have been a stray, fired probably from the alley.

Miss Mathews thinks she heard a scream just before the sound of the shot, but Mrs. Lord says she heard nothing of that kind. A police investigation revealed nothing more.

WARNER LAUDS
ROOSEVELT ACTS
IN NEGRO CASEBrownsville Troops Were Guilty, Says Missourian
in Lengthy Speech.

HE REGRETS PREJUDICE

Wrong to Charge That President Was Influenced by Color, He Declares.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Strenuously insisting that the evidence produced by the Senate committee which investigated the incident proved without doubt that members of the Twenty-fifth negro infantry were responsible for the "shooting up" of Brownsville, Tex., in August, 1906, Senator Warner of Missouri today addressed the Senate at length.

He presented the administration side of the case. At the outset he declared that the question of the facts should be answered without race or color prejudice, and he regretted "a studious and systematic effort" had been made to arouse the race feeling of the negroes of the country against the President because of his action in the matter.

He said:

"It is incredible to me that any intelligent man, white or black, should have the hardihood to charge that the President, in issuing the order discharging those soldiers, was influenced against them by reason of their color."

He declared that he was convinced that the attitude of the Brownsville people toward the troops was unjust, but that the troops' resentment should not have prompted the raid. He declared that he was forced to the conclusion that members of Companies B, C and D, whose identity has not been shown, "made the midnight assault on the sleeping and helpless citizens of Brownsville."

PRINCE GOES TO MEET
MME. GOULD; "FUTURE
IN THE HANDS OF GOD"Helie de Sagan Makes Pious Reply to Question as to His Expected Marriage.

PARIS, April 21.—Prince Helie de Sagan gave an interview at the house of a friend last night before he left for Naples, in which he admitted that he was going to Italy to meet Mme. Anna Gould, formerly Countess de Castellana, to whom he is reported to be engaged.

He refused to give any intimation as to when and where the marriage would take place, saying piously: "The future is in the hands of God."

The Prince described his experience in America as "torture." He said he was everywhere besieged by a legion of reporters and a horde of photographers, and that the most odious and most ridiculous things were printed about him and Mme. Gould.

"They even announced that our marriage had occurred secretly in New Jersey," he said, "which was as false as the reported family dinners at which my fate was discussed."

He declared also that even a high prelate of the Catholic Church took notice of his presence by issuing a manifesto against divorce, and this induced the clergy each Sunday to preach violent sermons against him and Mme. Gould.

HUSBAND ASKS POLICE TO KEEP WIFE FROM ENDING HER LIFEFears Missing Woman Has Carried Out Threat and Committed Suicide.

The police have been requested to look for Mrs. May Loris and prevent her from committing suicide, if she has not already done so. The request came from her husband, Lester Loris, an engineer in the Fraternal Building, who lives at 119 North Spring avenue, after he had received a letter from her threatening to end her life.

Mrs. Loris left a note at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon addressed to Mrs. Pelly Schammel, 1913 Franklin avenue, with whom she lived. Mrs. Schammel saw her last at 9 o'clock Monday morning, when she left her house.

The Loris has been married less than a year and their married life has been more or less unhappy. April 10 Loris took his wife to the City Hospital and said she had tried to kill herself with poison. She was released a week ago and went to the house of Mrs. Schammel, saying she would never live with her husband again.

MRS. STIFEL SEEKS DIVORCE

Sues Husband Worth $12,000 and Asks Alimony.

Mrs. Lillian Stifel wishes a divorce from Walter Stifel, who lives at 240 South Compton avenue, to whom she was married August 4, 1906, at Belleville, and with whom she lived until Jan. 12, 1908.

She says in her petition, filed Tuesday, that he deserted her the latter date and has not supported her since, although he is worth $12,000. She alleges also that he has spent money entertaining other women.

She asks temporary and permanent alimony.

Bachelor Says He'll Know Right Girl
If She Answers His "Ad" for a WifeCharles Wilson Arouses Anger of Widows by Calling Them "Second Hand."

"OLD MAIDS GOSSIPY"

North End Bachelor Wants
Good Looks and a Sweet Disposition.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

THE widows—and there are several of them—in the vicinity of 3517 North Ninth street are up in arms because the matrimonial prize of the neighborhood has publicly declared himself not for them, nor even for one of them.

One comely dame, just for spite, has forbidden her 16-year-old daughter to speak or take any notice of him.

The old maids say: "It is only one of Charlie Wilson's spring awakenings. Periodically he comes forth and threatens to get married, but always he returns to his hardened shell of bachelorhood. We have given him up long ago."

He Means Business.

Mr. Charles Wilson of the above address is known to be the mildest kind of big, good-natured man—with a gentle voice and an old-fashioned, deferential manner toward women—but when I talked to him for a little while on his doorstep, I was led to believe that he knows his own business better than any one else knows it, and that the old maids and the others have cause to believe that he means business this time.

At any rate, wasn't this a very business-like advertisement of his, which appeared in the papers Sunday morning?

MATRIMONY.—Gentleman, age 40, income $3000 a year, wants to marry pretty, educated girl. Ad. with photograph, Charles Williams, 3517 N. 9th st.

Altered Name Slightly.

He is a very modest man, which is perhaps why he advertised under the name of "Williams" instead of his own. He did not wish his picture to appear in the paper—but I decided it to be for his own good, and made a sketch of him while he looked the other way.

He is also disinclined to talk about his terms in his private affairs, though he has made them public. But when I called his attention to the fact that his advertisement is an unusual one in its class, in that it does not merely request "the acquaintance of a congenial lady, object matrimony"—and does it with such a right girl—but, of course, it will only be a stroke of good fortune if it does.

"I meant every word of what I said, and intended to make it so explicit that nothing further need be said," he declared.

Will Know Right Girl.

"Marriage is a lottery, they say. Everything is more or less a speculation. I thought I'd as soon buy a lottery ticket in one company as another—so I bought a newspaper advertisement—I hoped it would reach the right girl—but, of course, it will only be a stroke of good fortune if it does."

"I shall know the right girl at a glance if she comes. It will only remain for her to be suited."

"You notice I always say girl. Widows are tiresome, and I don't want a second-hand wife."

Old Maids, he went on, with a disgusted, weary sigh, "are gossip."

Must Be Truly Sweet.

"She must be pretty, but that doesn't mean a pretty face—a sweet disposition will make almost any face pretty."

"She need not have a cent—I can support my wife."

I printed my correct address so she can call here and look over my possessions while I am looking her over—this is where she will have to live.

Knows Few Women.

"This has been my home since childhood. I have never wandered far from it."

"That is why I know so few women beyond my own door yard, and, perhaps, that is why I was prompted to advertise in order to know other women. But I can't see why that should be so unusual."

And why should it be? Since, as he says, he is not a gay butterfly, stirring from flower to flower—why should not some genial, little, home-loving model flutter near his candle flame and settle down? They do sometimes.

Police Aid.

V. O. Koetzie of New Madrid, Mo., announced to the police Tuesday morning that after staying a week in St. Louis he had regained his health but had lost his young wife and all his money. He asked the police to help him find her, and he gave this description of her:

"Nineteen years old, but looks to be 16. A pretty blonde with a fresh rosy complexion and laughing mouth and eyes. Wore a brown merry widow hat and a blue skirt."

Koetzie is a baker. He had rheumatism and he came to the City Hospital last week ago for treatment.

While he remained in the hospital ward his wife went to find a boarding house. She had $132 of his money. She did not visit him in the hospital. He was discharged Tuesday and was unable to find her.

UP FROM UNMARKED GRAVEMystery of Discovery On Sandy Hook Solved
by Mother of Leader of Band Which Perished of Cold In 1783.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The mystery of the unmarked grave containing a number of skeletons found the other day at Hook on Sandy Hook, seems to have been solved.

It is now believed the bones are the remains of a party of Englishmen who were cast away on Sandy Hook in 1783, and buried where their frozen bodies were found.

The grave was discovered by accident the other day while men were excavating for the foundations for the new gun mounts to be placed in the fort which is one of those designed to protect New York harbor.

Stone in Tablet Solves Mystery.

The supposed solution to the mystery is found in the inscription on a tablet in the sacristy of Old Trinity Church.

The inscription is as follows:

"At Sandy Hook lie interred (the bones of) the Honorable Hamilton Douglas Hallyburton, son of Sholto Charles, Earl of Morton and heir of the ancient family of Hallyburton of Pitcur, in Scotland, who perished on the coast with 12 more young gentlemen and one common seaman in the spirited discharge of duty on the 30th or 1st of December, 1783. Born on the 10th of October, 1763."

MAYOR WELLS WINS SUIT

La Salle Investment Company
Pays $21,453.20.

Mayor Wells' suit against the LaSalle Investment Co., which took a lease on his property at the northwest corner of Broadway and Olive street, was settled Tuesday for $21,453.20, the investment company paying all the Mayor asked, with interest.

The company leased the corner and tore down the building there, to erect a new skyscraper. Mayor Wells charged that the company failed to comply with its promise to pay $15,000 semiannually, and to pay the taxes. He sued for the rent and $574 taxes.

This Simple Treatment

Get your druggist to mix the following ingredients: one-half ounce fluid ext. Buchu, one ounce of compound fluid Balmwort and two ounces of syrup Sarsaparilla compound. Shake well and take a teaspoonful before each meal and one when retiring. Drink plenty of water between meals and at night, but little of any liquid at meal times.

The buchu alone is an excellent tonic for the kidneys and bladder, its efficacy is ten times greater. The great urinary specialist, Gaut, whose single fees range from $300 to $1000, acknowledges in his latest reports to the German Health Bureau that this simple mixture is most reliable and will cure all but the most complicated and aggravated kidney and bladder affections. Therefore, it is well worth trying, as it is not an expensive formula.

Puffing under the eyes, backache, headache and dizziness, burning of the eyes, blurred vision, extreme nervousness, and insomnia all indicate urinary trouble. Many more symptoms could be named, but the reader will surely avoid neglect and prevent serious complications like diabetes, Bright's disease, apoplexy and rheumatism.

WITCH DOCTOR'S
HAND TELLS HIM
HE WON'T HANGHerman Billek, Convicted of Vzral Murder, Encouraged
by His Reprieve.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Herman Billek, the necromancer whose execution has been postponed from next Friday until June 12, read his own palm this morning and declared he would never hang.

The reprieve was granted late yesterday afternoon by Gov. Deneen and the State Board of Pardons.

Pinning his hope to new evidence his attorneys have discovered, and in the lines in his hand, the "witch doctor" is confident of salvation from the gallows.

Has No "Gallows Line."

"I feel a prophetic sense that I will be freed," he said. "Look, my hand has no stigma of the gallows. There is a complete absence of the 'gallows line' which is found on the palms of all those born to be hanged."

The Rev. Father O'Callaghan, to whom Billek owes his reprieve, visited the condemned man this morning. He showed him the new evidence on which so much depends. It is an anonymous letter furnishing the names of a woman and four men the writer declares were implicated in the Vzral murder plot.

State's Attorneys Allege Hypnotism.

The new evidence will be collated, and Attorney Hincley, for Billek, will make it the basis of a petition for a supplementary hearing before the Pardon Board at an early date.

The State's attorneys declared this morning that Jere Vzral, whose repudiation of the trial testimony brought Billek's reprieve, is under Billek's hypnotic influence. They will fight the new demand for a hearing.

DUELISTS KILL

OTHERS WOUNDEDPrincipals in Louisiana Feud Fight Escape Without Serious Wounds.

BERNICE, La., April 21.—One spectator was killed and five others wounded during a street duel here yesterday. Both duelists were wounded, but not seriously.

The fight was between C. J. Morton and F. J. Barham, both prominent in this section. The cause of their quarrel is not known.

Morton was just stepping off an Arkansas Southern passenger train, accompanied by his wife and 7-year-old son, when Barham appeared, armed. Morton was carrying a repeating shotgun.

Little Boy Wounded.

Both men opened fire, and Morton's little boy fell, probably fatally wounded. T. W. Clarke was instantly killed, at the same volley, and Thomas Elves was wounded in the thigh.

Conductor Alford of the train and a passenger, whose name was not learned, were mortally wounded.

Morton was hit twice, and Barham once.

Passenger Is Shot.

A. J. Blane of Covington, La., was probably fatally wounded while seated in the smoking car.

Clem Barham assisted his father in the shooting.

Dance.

Miss Hannah Begley, attired in a green robe, was crowned Queen of the Ball at the Ancient Order of Hibernians' after-Easter dance at Hibernian Hall Monday evening. James M. Murphy, president of that division, was master of ceremonies.

Miss Begley's maids also wore green. They were the defeated contestants for the queenship—Misses Lizzie Begley, Margaret O'Malley, Annie Green and Mary E. Devaney.

Miss Begley and James J. O'Malley led the grand march. Miss Begley will be the queen of all the social functions of the order during the year.

Prof. Dick Richards will act as stage manager. Among those who will take part are: Misses Ella Schaeffer, Elma Fricke, Mabel Werner, Susie Albers, Lillian Pfifer, Clara Heiser, Emily Kauffeld, Mrs. Arthur Schultes, and Messrs. Deubler, Lifka, Brand, Rauchkolb, Linderman, Richardson, Gaul, Hudson, Snider and Steve Martin.

BRONSON HOWARD SERIOUSLY ILL

NEW YORK, April 21.—Bronson Howard, the dean of American playwrights, has been seriously ill for some weeks, although the fact has just become known.

A friend of Mr. Howard explained last night that the family did not wish to have the fact of his illness become known. He has been suffering with the same rheumatic malady with which he suffered while on his trip to Egypt, and at one time the physicians were much alarmed.

However, he is now thought to be on the road to recovery.

TEN STOWAWAYS ON ONE SHIP

NEW YORK, April 21.—What comes pretty near being the record for stowaways is held by the United Fruit Co.'s steamer Norwich, which left Port Antonio on last Wednesday.

The day after the vessel sailed three faces peered cautiously over the edge of the afterhatch. Their owners proved to be Jamaican negroes and were hurried to the poop for safe keeping, the new cargo.

On Friday the watch captured two more and Saturday four more crawled out from amongst the banana bunches which made up the steamer's legitimate cargo. Another appeared Sunday.

Thousands
Look On
With Scorn

Thousands of men look with scorn on a man who drinks liquor, and say he lacks will power, then add with considerable pride, "I used to be a hard drinker, but I stopped of my own accord when I saw it was getting the best of me." Yet if he had only known the truth it was his wife or mother who saved him from certain ruin and removed his desire for drink, by secretly giving him in his tea or coffee White Ribbon Bitters, the best remedy in the world for Alcoholism.

This remedy is a tasteless, odorless and colorless powder and can be given in tea, coffee or food without the patient's knowledge. Be your duty if some member of your family drinks. This medicine is guaranteed, under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, Serial No. 2110.

Write today to the White Ribbon Remedy Co. of Boston, Mass., for free sample and book on Alcoholism, which will be sent you in plain sealed envelope. The price of the remedy is $1 per package and is not returned by mail.

POSTMASTER WYMAN'S REAPPOINTMENT.

The reappointment of Postmaster Wyman will be highly gratifying to most St. Louisans. He has made a very acceptable officer. He has given close attention to the public business. He has had no part in political management. He has not attempted to fix conventions or to control delegates. He and nobody else has been Postmaster. These being the facts in the case, the appointment for another term is creditable not only to him, but to the President. If Mr. Roosevelt had been wholly committed to the Taft spoils program, the St. Louis postmaster would have been a fine opportunity to reward the Taft workers and to discourage the men who refused to use their official positions in the interest of any candidate.

Appropriate in every way, the reappointment of Mr. Wyman suggests politically only this query: If the Republican machine in Missouri had not believed that it was to be given control of the St. Louis Postoffice, would most of the Missouri delegation to the Chicago convention be now under instructions to vote for Mr. Taft?

TWO BLUE LAW PROSECUTIONS.

Two Sunday law cases at Kansas City had an instructive conclusion. The defendants were in the theatrical business and the evidence against them was plain. In one instance the jury disagreed, standing 10 for acquittal and 2 for conviction. In the other there was a conviction, with a fine of $1.

These results show with some certainty that blue laws are not now relished by the people and could not by any possibility be re-enacted. One jury disregarded the law and the evidence. The other took them both into account and fixed the penalty at a nominal sum.

Our statute books are crowded with obsolete laws. It is true that what is called a bad law should be repealed, but it is also true that most legislative bodies never learned how to repeal a law. The practice is to ignore such enactments, and it is almost universal.

As the Missouri Sunday laws are essentially religious in their inspiration and scope, why Sabatarians will hardly approve the drastic course pursued by Judge Wallace in their revival. Goaded to a genuine repeal movement, as they are likely to be by persecution, the people may go to greater extremes than will be desirable.

The commonwealth is not a religious institution and those who would make it so are not well advised as to the temper of its inhabitants.

TODAY IN BASEBALL.

Side by side with the great problems which shall we be fed and clothed is the question of supremacy in baseball.

The fans fill the seats at all the parks when games are played and mass about the scoreboards downtown when the teams are away or they lack time and coin. They see with deep emotion that the Browns lead the first division and they hope with all the strength of their optimistic souls that the Browns will continue to lead.

It is the time for applause. We know not what failures the future has in store; we only know the present good. It is true that he laughs best who laughs last, but how dull the fate of him who never laughs. Let us sing our song of victory now. Let us deride antagonists and praise our aggregation. Let us crown Hedges, McAleer and our other importations.

Today, at least, is ours, and if the good thought we are throwing out fails to impinge upon the antennae of the wireless—if they are nosed out of leadership—we will have had our time of triumph. If the Browns win the pennant we may celebrate again.

CELEBRATING THE FREE BRIDGE.

Boston commemorated the 133d anniversary of Paul Revere's ride last Sunday. St. Louis will celebrate the 34th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth on Thursday. The Missouri Historical Society is preparing fitting ceremonies for May 17, the 59th anniversary of the great St. Louis fire. Would it not be in keeping with this odd fashion to publicly recognize the fact that on June 2, 1908, St. Louis by an overwhelming majority authorized the construction of a free bridge over the Mississippi River?

If we may not have the bridge, we, at least, may burn a little red fire to the memory of our patriotism.

DARK HORSES THAT DO NOT PERFORM.

The Post-Dispatch has received an abundance of printed matter concerning the virtues of Messrs. Knox, Douglas, Chanler, La Follette and other presidential dark horses. Matrices accompany much of the press agents' contributions, and in some instances the printed slips are gummed on the back to save a tired copy provider the trouble of reaching for a paste brush.

Such care for editorial convenience and such ingenuity as is displayed in the variation of the matter deserve recognition. It is with heart-felt regret that we are compelled by space considerations—and other reasons—to consign the boom material to the waste basket.

Dark horse promoters must awake to the needs of their position as have the theatrical press agents. Unless Messrs. Knox, Douglas, Chanler, et al. hunt tigers, blow banks, buy the Kohinoor or do other time-lighted stunts we must continue to ignore them in favor of real news.

MR. BUSCH'S IMPETUOUS SPEECH.

No one expected Adolphus Busch to return to St. Louis a convert to prohibition, but that he has learned little about the movement and is in no position to contend with it effectively is shown by his remark that it is "insane, foolish and idiotic," and that its only supporters are "a lot of women and children and a number of reverend gentlemen."

From the financial standpoint nobody has more reason to fear prohibition than Mr. Busch. If the manufacture and sale of intoxicants is to be interdicted, his vast properties will be destroyed. That is the fate which has overtaken the brewing industry in some other states. Mr. Busch himself has felt the effects of the same blight. There are prohibition states on the northern, western and southwestern borders of Missouri, and more than half of the counties in this State are already dry.

If prohibition shall become an issue in Missouri it will be necessary for wiser men and men less directly interested than Mr. Busch to oppose it on high grounds of public policy and personal liberty. Why should he, with exaggerated speech and contemptuous reference, make the contest more certain and more difficult of settlement in a rational way?

The prohibitionists are neither lunatics, fools nor idiots, and they do not get their votes from women and children and preachers. We believe them to be mistaken in their ideas and in their methods, but we know that they are sincere and that they are attempting to deal with evils which no one should belittle or deny.

Arrogance never won a fight of this kind and it never will win one. Ignorance is just as bad. Incivility is even worse. A great deal is to be said in reason against prohibitory enactments, but if the head of the brewing industry is to bear himself in this fashion it will be hardly worth while to say anything at all.

DISCRIMINATION IN PUBLIC SERVICE.

Good government is just government, and if we could have in all of our public affairs the justice and equality of which we hear so much, the problem of good government would be practically solved.

We are a long ways, probably, from perfect equality in laws and their enforcement, but there is no reason why there should be palpable discrimination by public service corporations in their dealings with the public.

If some of the people using the street cars were charged 10 cents while others paid only 5 cents or 3 cents, the wrong would be no more pronounced than it is in the case of the electric light company which has rates four or five times as high for some people as it has for others.

A public-service corporation which ventures to charge one man more than another must necessarily fix its rates arbitrarily, and with no better reason than its own caprice or interest. A condition of affairs in which such a corporation, dependent upon public grants for the privilege of doing business, can select classes to favor and set apart classes to oppress, is intolerable. It can be corrected without great difficulty, for all of its methods are known, or should be.

The drift of laws cannot always be told in advance, and the ingenuity of wrongdoing on the part of officeholders is incalculable, but the problem presented in public service is simple and plain. Rates are reasonable and uniform or they are unreasonable and discriminating. Consumers who care to know whether they are one or the other may easily ascertain the facts and act accordingly.

There is a remedy at law for the unequal rates of the Union Electric Co. and the people will have only themselves to blame if they do not seek it.

SOME OF THE BRYAN PARASITES.

Mr. Bryan is not to be blamed for the performances and utterances of his too-zealous friends. He has had occasion of late to repudiate several of them with considerable severity.

One objection to a long-time candidacy under party government is seen in the fact that various individuals closely identified with the leader count too confidently upon his success and so develop into a bread and butter brigade of huge proportions. Mr. Bryan's political ambitions have not interfered with his industry and manner of life, but many of his followers have been living on hope for several years, with the usual results.

Gen. Grant had such an element in his train and so did James G. Blaine and Grover Cleveland. Men who expect important office in the event of the election of a friend to the presidency are apt not only to neglect the things nearest at hand, but to become nuisances to the men whom they think they are serving.

The manner in which Mr. Bryan has repudiated some of these people of late shows that if he ever reaches the White House he is well equipped to do a great deal more of it.

The new Comptroller of the Currency is to be Lawrence O. Murray of New York, who, so far as is known, has no connection with the Illinois dynasty. Mr. Murray has not yet picked out the national bank that he would like to serve in the capacity of president, but give him a little time.

Frank Jay Gould admits that he lacks the wisdom to say the words on the debilitating influence of money and no work which have been credited to him. The philosophy contradicted the premise and denial was unnecessary.

Even members of the House of Delegates condemn the meanness of officials who convert automobiles, bought to expedite the city's business, into pleasure vehicles for their own families.

The 115 baptized in the river at the foot of Franklin avenue were not "washed in the crystal flood," but the unwashed substance that leaves sand between the toes.

Dr. Rixey of the navy has suffered a disastrous defeat in the refusal of Congress to build him another hospital ship. What encouragement is there for a naval surgeon in time of peace?

Surprise was expressed at Los Angeles because a large number of sailors from the battleships attended church there on Sunday. There are a good many St. Louis men in the various crews who have had a raisin.

Having spent most of the winter supporting Republican policies, John Sharp Williams now rehabilitates himself as a Democrat by quarreling with Speaker Cannon.

Mr. Bryan appears to be in New York in the interest of harmony—and a contesting delegation.

How is Mr. Taft going to explain the Wyman appointment?

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

On $1.50 Per Day.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
A man who is working for $1.50 per day and makes less than four days per week for the entire year is not as well cared for as was the slave. His board and room will cost him $6 per week, his laundry at least 40 cents and his shave 15 cents, car fare at least 10 cents and clothes and shoes at least 70 cents per week. Please show, by the method taught in our public schools, how he can meet his obligations?

Cruelty to Women.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Why don't the law make these restaurants give their help one day in the week off. It is cruel to make a woman slave every day and half of the night while the men get a day off. Now, there is a law that prevents cruelty to animals. Why not make a law to prevent cruelty to poor restaurant women, who work all the time with nothing but poor eating?
A LITTLE TIME TO REST.

The Wise Husband.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I am a young married man of 22 and am sure that there is nothing which is within my power to do good enough for my wife. A man has no right to ask a young woman to give up everything that is dear to her in this life to become a household slave, without a clear way ahead for his and her future welfare. He should be stricken mute just before making his proposal, as a blessing from the Almighty to both.

Poor Ytyme

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I have been very much interested in letter on "Economy." I think E. W. uses good judgment. He can always have good, wholesome food on $17 per month, and if at any time he wishes any of the "luxuries" of life he will have the price to buy them. Ytyme will never have a home. If he should lose his position or be sick several months (as some are), how long do you think he could pay his bills? In case of death his family will be homeless, unless he provides by having life insurance.

Neglected Loafers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I wish to call attention to the fact that there is always a crowd of loafers around the corner of Leffingwell and Locust, and they are in the habit of making insulting remarks to and about every woman that has to pass that corner. They have been insulted several times by these loafers, and I think there should be something done immediately to stop this practice. If the policeman on the beat did his duty instead of making friends of these loafers it would never happen.
A PROPERLY OWNED.

The Merry Widow.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Once upon a time a nice old gentleman on the East Side of New York was stuck with a lot of cheap big straw hats (back in the '80s) called cowbats, and they looked mighty poor to him; but the nice old gentleman was there with a resourceful brain and, dragging the press into his web, has secured such a marvelous amount of free advertising that he has felt compelled to erect a mammoth factory in a New Jersey suburb of New York, where the "Merry Widows" are now turned out by the hundred thousand. Please help poor old Isaacson along.

Extras on Telegraph Messages.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Can you please let the public know anything about the reason why the Western Union Telegraph Co. is perpetrating an excessive charge on paid messages they deliver? I have received several paid messages in the last few weeks and on each there was an extra charge of 10 cents. I recently sent a paid message by the Western Union to Springfield, Mo., and when it was delivered there was a 25-cent extra charge demanded. Perhaps if I send one to Arkansas or Texas there will be an extra charge on each of 50 cents or $1 respectively.
St. Louis University School of Medicine.

Disgraceful Owls.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Having occasion to travel on the owl cars on South Broadway, especially on Sunday night, and wish to call attention to the profanity, obscenity and deplorable conduct which our wives, mothers and sweethearts who are so unfortunate as to be passengers on the northbound owl cars are forced to hear and see. Last Sunday night, accompanied by my wife, I had occasion to board the Broadway owl near the south end. The conduct of a number of the passengers, the greater portion of whom were frequenters of wine gardens and low resorts in that locality, returning to their homes after a night of debauchery, was a disgrace to all South St. Louis.
LA MUTHE.

Public Library Catalogue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
While the plans are being prepared for the new Public Library, I suggest that the catalogues might be made more useful to the serious reader who desires to look up some special subject. If such broad groups as "physics," "useful arts," etc., were further subdivided into groups embracing only a single topic. For example, I wished to get a book on "light," recently, and had to go through the big group, "physics," to find one. In the group labeled "Mind and Body," for example, this method of lumping together a great variety of subjects compels the reader to look through almost a whole drawerful of cards to find what he wants.

Prohibition in Iowa.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I went to Iowa in 1872. In the latter '70s a "prohibition wave" struck that State. In consequence of which the "prohibition law" went into effect July 2, 1883, and I could cite you many, many instances of men made drunkards, for the reason that they could not, as had formerly been their custom, go into a saloon, on their way home in the evening, and get a glass of beer or whiskey, and then proceed to their home, but they would have to go into a drug store, sign a "certificate" ("death warrant," for the whiskey sold was enough to kill you) and get a pint of "rotgut." They could not drink any of it on the premises, so would have to drop into an alley and take a drink, dropping into several alleys before reaching home, in order that they might finish the bottle, as they would not care to take the bottle, partly filled, into their homes, for fear their wives or mothers might find it; in consequence of which, after drinking a pint of that kind of booze they would be drunk. There are thousands of instances of this kind in every "prohibition community."

JUST A MINUTE FOR VERSE AND HUMOR.

REMINISCENCES OF MCLOSKEY.

"No," said McCloskey, "it's not all grimaces, this baseball business. A tough wedge into it now and then. Did I ever tell you about Doonan? Doonan—Doonan—that doesn't sound right, but it was something like that. We picked him up in the bush, with the usual assurances of his endowments. He was a boy to jerk a bull off the bridge—big-boned, big-muscled and gritty as spinach. He worked out with us in the spring, and thundered in the index with hard hitting and beautiful catching. Soon after the season opened I slipped him into a game. The pitcher that day wasn't throwing them hard enough to require Doonan, so I put him on first base. The crowd howled when they saw him in the lineup. What a giant! He was, indeed, a beauty, and he ate everything up in practice. It seemed that positively nothing could bite him first.

"Well, the game started, and the first couple of batters went off by way of Doonan. He got one throw from third and another from short. He snapped them like a turtle eating tadpoles. The crowd howled some more and he tipped his hat. Then the third batter followed him up to the shortstop. It was a hard play, and the runner dashed across the bag just an edge in front of the ball.

"That was before the brain-storm theory had been evolved. But, thanks to subsequent science, we have now an accepted hypothesis for the what followed. The batter kept right on to second. Doonan took after him. He gripped the ball in his throwing hand and ran like a whitehead. They crossed second base about ten feet apart. They went around third without either man having gained an inch. Doonan might have cut inside the line on his man, but he didn't. He was above any mean advantage. He touched second, and also third. Approaching the plate, he gained perceptibly, and stretched his hand out to touch the runner with the ball. But he didn't quite make it, and they passed over the plate with Doonan's tag about an inch shy.

"Well, the crowd and the players simply rolled over and screamed. I walked over toward Doonan, fully intending to kill him. When he saw murder in my face, his expression was the most superb exhibition of surprised innocence I have ever seen. I simply couldn't do it. I waved him to the bench, and that night I packed him carefully and expressed him back to Arkansas."

"I didn't see you at church Sunday." "You didn't! Goodness, what a waste of money!"

THE MOVING PICTURE SHOW.

A MOVING PICTURE SHOW had come to show in Pleasant Green—The first invention of the kind the town had ever seen. The news of it and when to go were quickly in the air, And when it opened up at night all Pleasant Green was there.

"My friends," the smiling barker said, "we'll have a laugh or two—The Judges at the Baby Show." John D. Among the Sioux! And when we've had a bit of this to reconcile the kids, We'll have Napoleon in his speech before the pyramids."

The mirth of Pleasant Green arose in tumult, squeals and cries, When Mamma licked the judge because her off-spring lost the prize; And when John D. was gagged at last, and being left beside The trail, pulled out another wig, they laughed until they cried.

"Now, friends," the barker came to say, "I want to say this art Is not so new but that we have the speech of Bonaparte As it was taken on the spot with film and phonograph, And stamped by him as genuine—you'll see the autograph."

The lights went out, and lo, the scene was on Sahara's sand! And yonder sat Napoleon with the scepter in his hand—Before him were the legions—and the pyramids behind—And the centuries looked down on them, as Bonaparte opined.

His voice! "My soldiers," it began, in measured tone and firm, And Caleb Smith, who keeps the store, began to gape and squirm. "On Egypt's stage," Napoleon said, "the drama we call life Is old—so old—so old, my friends," and Caleb nudged his wife.

"Beneath these mighty Pyramids," great Bonaparte resumed, And Caleb stood up in his seat, "are Pharaohs entombed In the dust of centuries, my friends." And Caleb took a last And piercing look at Bonaparte before his army vast.

"Git out!" he cried, and rudely broke the tense and gripping thrill—The people felt. "Git out," he said, "that 'ere's my brother Bill! That feller settin' on the hawse—I know his voice—his face—That Bonaparte! Git out, it's Bill! I'd know him any place."

"What's Bill, you faker—course it is, By Jove, I won't be bluffed! What's more, that hawse he's settin' on ain't live at all—it's stuffed! An' them there pyramids ain't real—they're painted on a sheet—An' so's the soldiers an' the guns! The show is on the beat!"

A roar of rage—a rush—a smash—a hoarse commanding shout—And a moving picture show that was went swiftly down and out. "We might as-spared it," Caleb said, "but we was sort o' crazed To have 'em hand it to us here, where Bill was born an' raised."

SOMETHING new and something blue will be the song of the Easter week brides. The marriage of Miss Rose Smith and Mr. Guy Van Zandt Thompson will be the fashionable nuptial affair late Tuesday evening and that of Miss Alice Morton and Mr. Harry Hill Langenberg early in the evening.

Miss Morton and Mr. Langenberg will be married at the Church of the Messiah at 5 o'clock. Mr. Carl Langenberg will be best man and Messrs. Fred Allen, Charles Merrill, Ralph Simpkins, Oliver Richards and Charles Bascome will be groomsmen and ushers. Miss Morton will be attended as maid of honor by her sister, Miss Helen Morton. Miss Carol Weston of Dalton, Mass., Miss Beth Prewitt, Miss Olive Simpkins and Miss Ethel Gamble will be the bride's three other attendants. The wedding colors will be pale blue and white. The bride's gown will be of heavy white satin, with point lace, and a tulle veil will be caught simply by bridal flowers. Valley lilies and bride roses will form the shower bouquet. The bride's attendants will carry big arm bouquets of lilies. A reception will follow the church ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. W. Morton, 49 Vandeventer place. Mr. and Mrs. Langenberg will depart late in the evening for New York, where they will remain until May 25, when they will sail for a two months' journey abroad.

Ascension lilies, palms and ferns will decorate the improvised altar lighted by tapers in tall candelabra, before which the wedding ceremony uniting Miss Rose Smith and Mr. Guy Van Zandt Thompson of Cincinnati will be read. HOUSE.

WOMAN IS FREED IN DISPUTE OVER "MERRY WIDOWS"

Judge and Jury Listen Two Hours to Story Hats Were Called Umbrellas.

DUCKS INVOLVED, TOO
Magistrate Discharges Alton
Housewife Without Hearing
Character Evidence.

Upper Alton's merry widow hat quarrel has been legally adjudicated. Police Magistrate Ford and a jury in his court listened to the story of two hours, while Mrs. Randolph Smith and Marie Tisius, her servant, told their grievances against Mrs. Herman Herrin, Mrs. Smith's next-door neighbor, and while Mrs. Herrin answered.

Corroborated in detail by the servant, Mrs. Smith averred that Mrs. Herrin not only slurred their hats, asking suspiciously if they were umbrellas, too, but that she also referred to Mrs. Smith and the maid as "glasshouse diamonds" and "trash."

Further, Mrs. Herrin was accused of gathering neighboring children in her yard to sing a variation on "Blue Bells of Scotland," construed by Mrs. Smith as directly reflecting on herself. Further still, that Mrs. Herrin drove the Smith ducks out of her yard with uncomplimentary remarks about the condition of the Smith yard.

General denial of this was made by Mrs. Herrin, who, in her own defense, declared that Mrs. Smith and her servant threw decaying lemons into the Herrin yard, and hung one by a string to a tree, where it dangled right before Mrs. Herrin's eyes.

She Wins Her Discharge.
Mrs. Herrin admitted that she did turn up her nose at the refuse Mrs. Smith threw out in front of her yard, and had a dozen witnesses there to prove she was justified.

She had another dozen witnesses to testify to her character for peace and neighborliness in the community. But the patience of the jury and of Magistrate Ford was exhausted before these were heard, and she was discharged. Mrs. Herrin without further ado.

CLEANLINESS IN THE SOUP WINS FRIENDS TO CAMPBELL'S
Head of Jersey Plant Says Public
Has Limited and Amusing Ideas.

Arthur Dorrance, head of the Jersey plant that supplies the world with Campbell's soups, says the consuming public has only a limited and sometimes amusing idea of the methods employed in manufacturing modern canned food products.

He recalls that a woman recently complained of Campbell's Cream Bouillon that she could find no trace of the tomato. Dorrance says Campbell's soups are not prepared like the household product, machinery taking the place of the human hand in the production of many of the kinds. Says Mr. Dorrance:

"Modern methods mean absolute accuracy, unquestioned purity and extreme cleanliness. Every visitor to our establishment is at once impressed with this. The clarifying apparatus made by ourselves, the huge electric fans that provide pure air, our five artesian wells, all are merely incidents in our business."

"Our care and watchfulness begin with the planting of the seed that produces the famous Jersey tomato and never lets up until as Campbell's Tomato Soup it is hermetically sealed in the can. Could every housewife visit our plant and see us make Campbell's Soups we could not wish for further or better advertisement."

POLICE RAID POKER GAME; GET SLEEPERS HIDING IN COFFINS
Stampede Takes Players Into Undertaking Shop and They All Play Dead Hands.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., April 21.—So "dead game" were 23 players when a police game was raided that they sought security in coffins and caskets.

Others hid in an attic, and when rounded up, all shut and cowboys, they were a sorry sight.

Two dozen men were around the tables, but two jumped 30 feet from a window into a pile of ashes and escaped. Others broke through a wooden partition to P. B. Kavanagh's undertaking place and hid in the coffins.

John H. Blake, the proprietor, was fined $100 and sent to jail for six months. The others were fined $25 or $50 and each and all paid up.

TWO WELL-DRESSED WOMEN LEAVE BABY ON SIDEWALK
They Place Five-Days-Old Girl
Behind Tree, Then Board North-bound Broadway Car.

The police are seeking two well-dressed women who deserted a five-days-old girl on the sidewalk at Broadway and Charlton street. The baby has been placed by the police in the Bethesda Orphan's Home.

August F. Daues saw the two women from his home at 2736 Charlton street, at 9:30 p. m. Monday. They were standing at Broadway and Charlton street. As a car approached one of the women deposited the baby behind a tree. Then they boarded the north-bound Broadway car.

John Driscoll and Miss Bertha McClannahan of 2742 Charlton street picked up the child a few minutes later and turned it over to Patrolman Heidecker. The baby was dressed in a plain white slip.

BATTERY A WILL FIGHT THE WAR WITH SPAIN AGAIN

Veterans of Porto Rico to Gather
About Campfire Next Saturday Night.

Stronous echoes of the Spanish-American war will thrill the air of Battery A's armory next Saturday night, when the Porto Rican Association of battery veterans will celebrate the tenth anniversary of their response to President McKinley's call for volunteers. The celebration will be held in the open air on the battery's drill ground, and the scene will be a reproduction of the battery's camp in Porto Rico. Lieut. V. Mott Porter will read a historical review of the battery's service during the war with Spain, illustrated with photographs taken throughout the campaign. There will be singing of battery songs around a campfire and some famous battery veterans will be told by several of the veterans.

An illustrated souvenir book, covering Battery A's interesting history, is being issued Saturday. It is a handsome volume, and the proceeds realized from advertisements and subscriptions go to the battery fund for the relief of the families of deceased members. Capt. Frank M. Rumbold will preside at the anniversary celebration.

DENIED MARRIED WOMAN'S LOVE YOUTH DROWNS SELF

Leaves Home When Parents Object to Affair and Later Ends Life in River.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 21.—Because his parents objected to his attentions to a married woman, who was not living with her husband, Abner Bosworth, 20 years old, started West a few days ago, and later drowned himself in the Scioto River, near Columbus, O.

Mrs. John Higgins of this city, on whose account the young man left his home, takes the death of her youthful friend much to heart.

"I am much upset about the whole affair," said the young woman.

"Abner seemed infatuated with me from the first time we met. He would frequently insist that I go out with him, but I always refused. He used to write me pleading letters when I would refuse to see him."

"His parents accused me of turning his head, but I did not. I only broke him of drinking, besides reforming him in other ways."

PROHIBITION FIGHT ON AGAIN TODAY IN ILLINOIS

Cities in Counties Which Went Wet
Will Try to Drive Out Saloons.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 21.—Many towns and cities throughout the State, particularly in the southern portion, are voting again today on the saloon question. The question will come up either on the open issue of local option or the election of councilmen.

The prohibitionists are claiming that Pulaski, Christian, Calhoun, Scott and Menard will be elected with the "dry" counties after the vote is completed tonight. There is hope of throwing out the saloons entirely from some of the cities in "wet" counties.

In Cairo the vote will be directly on the issue of retaining the saloons, while in Bloomington, which went "wet" at the recent election, the drys try to elect a Board of Aldermen opposed to issuing saloon licenses.

Precious Metals Found in Rubbish.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 21.—Gold, silver and lead worth $200 was found in an abandoned pile of brick and ashes at the plant of the Kansas City Structural Steel Co. in Argentine yesterday.

The site was first occupied by the Argentine Smelter. The smelter at one time was the most important in the United States, but was dismantled years ago. The plant was sold last year to the steel company.

CARRERA IS MAKING HOUSE TO HOUSE SEARCH FOR ASSASSINS

President of Guatemala Seeks to Avenge Attack and Wound
in Hand.

MEXICO CITY, April 21.—Actually searching a large part of Guatemala City, house by house, for persons implicated in a plot to assassinate him, President Manuel Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala has created a reign of terror in his capital, according to advices to the Government here.

The wound which Cabrera suffered in the right hand in the recent shooting about his carriage is not serious, and he is personally directing the search from the executive residence.

Scores of arrests have been made, and it is reported several of the prisoners have already been shot by the police on the pretense they were resisting arrest or attempting to escape. Many women are among the captives.

Cabrera was on his way to meet the new United States Minister, Maj. William Heinke, when attacked. As he left his carriage several men fired at him with revolvers. The promptness with which the members of his escort drew their weapons and scattered the would-be assassins saved his life.
